Claim Diet Pills Are Ineffective; Seek Clampdown

WASHINGTON (AP) — A government-hired panel of consultants has concluded that diet pills are of "clinically trivial" value in weight loss and, with one exception, should be tightly controlled.

The recommendation, if accepted by regulatory agencies, would permanently crimp the profitable, multimillion-dollar antifattening business by prohibiting refillable prescriptions and imposing manufacturing quotas.

After reviewing mountains of effectiveness data sorted in a pioneering computer project, the consultants said diet pills in general cause the loss of only a fraction of a pound per week in short-term use.

The total impact of drug-induced weight loss over that of diet alone "must be considered clinically trivial," they said, especially in light of the high potential for abuse of the diet drugs.

The group of four physicians and two statisticians was headed by Dr. Thaddeus E. Prout, associate professor of medicine at Johns Hopkins University and a former member of the Food and Drug Administration's advisory committee on metabolic and endocrine drugs.

The FDA is undertaking an extensive review of all diet drugs in preparation for recommendations to the Bureau of Narcotics and Dangerous Drugs.

The lone exception to the panel's findings was fenfluramine, patented as Pondimin by A.H. Robbins Co. of Richmond, Va.

Clinical trials have shown fenfluramine to be significantly effective in weight controls but with an apparent absence of the stimulant side-effects which make other diet pills popular among youths, truck drivers, athletes and other persons seeking a boost.

FDA officials are concerned, however, that the panel's recommendations would give the Robbins firm a virtual monopoly on the market for appetite-curbing pills. The drug is not yet approved for weight control.

"Everybody would like to treat them all equally," said Dr. Barrett Scoville, deputy director of FDA's division of neuropharmacological drug products. "But we are scientists and there are some facts we can't ignore."

South Viets Ignore Reds In Hamlets

U.S. Air Raids Continue Heavy Across North

SAIGON (AP) — North Vietnamese and Viet Cong forces held on to a string of hamlets 14 to 22 miles north of Saigon today, and the South Vietnamese command acknowledged that its troops were making no effort to drive them out.

In the air war, U.S. fighter-bombers hit North Vietnam with more than 300 strikes Monday for the fifth successive day. The U.S. Command said more than 330 strikes were flown.

The targets included the MIG base at Yen Bai, 80 miles northwest of Hanoi, where Air Force pilots reported several explosions, and the Thai Binh army barracks 37 miles southwest of Haiphong, where Navy pilots reported destroying 16 buildings.

Nearly 100 U.S. B52s attacked targets around the North Vietnamese port of Dong Hoi, 45 miles north of the demilitarized zone, and around the South Vietnamese cities of Saigon, Kontum, Quang Ngai, Da Nang, Hue and Quang Tri.

The U.S. Command said their targets were supply caches, troop positions and staging areas.

Associated Press correspondent Holger Jensen reported from the front north of Saigon that in five days Communist forces have occupied at least seven hamlets and one village along an eight-mile stretch of Highway 13.

South Vietnamese troops told Jensen they had been given no orders to move against the enemy, and Lt. Col. Le Trung Hien, the spokesman for the South Vietnamese command in Saigon, gave this explanation: "We are surrounding the enemy to prevent them from moving to other places. These are very populated areas, and it is better to prevent the enemy from spreading and mingling with the civilians."

The Saigon command reported 22 enemy troops killed in two clashes in the area Monday and another 38 killed in Tay Ninh province 45 miles north-west of Saigon. South Vietnamese losses were 19 men killed and 34 wounded, the command said.

3rd Day In Row; Speculation Grows

Kissinger, Reds Talk Again

WASHINGTON (AP) — Henry A. Kissinger went into an unprecedented third day of talks with the North Vietnamese in Paris today, then took time out to call on the French foreign minister, Maurice Schumann.

The presidential adviser on national security affairs went to the foreign minister with Arthur K. Watson, the U.S. ambassador to France.

Reports in Paris said Kissinger is believed to have discussed Vietnam with Schumann.

Kissinger conferred with the North Vietnamese envoys to the Paris peace talks Sunday and Monday and decided to stay over for a third day to continue the meetings.

"Apparently they have something to talk about," White House Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said Monday in announcing extension of the talks. He added that the United States and North Vietnam have agreed not to discuss the substance of negotiations.

But diplomatic observers read the extension as evidence that, if nothing else, Kissinger, Le Duc Tho and Xuan Thuy have stepped up the pace of negotiations.

In Saigon, meanwhile, South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu, whose future has become a pivotal part of the negotiations and the broader peace talks in Paris, met for 45 minutes with U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker.

Again, U.S. officials would not discuss the substance of the talks.

A flurry of reports in recent days that peace might be near has been dismissed by the White House and the North Vietnamese as speculation.

Kissinger is expected to return to Washington tonight, at about the same time that Democratic presidential candidate George McGovern goes on television to outline his plan for ending the war.

The extended Kissinger trip to Paris—his 19th over a three-year period—and Bunker's session with Thieu raised still more speculation.

Last Thursday, while Nixon was telling newsmen that the peace talks had reached a sensitive stage, the chief Viet Cong delegate to the Paris talks was saying that the two sides "remain very far apart on political and military questions."

The latest proposal for discussion at the Paris peace talks, which resume Thursday, was made by the Viet Cong. It calls for the Thieu government to resign in favor of a tripartite regime composed of representatives of Viet Cong forces, neutrals and the Saigon administration, minus personnel connected with Thieu.

The United States said such a plan would lead to "prolonged warfare and communist dictatorship by the North."

The Viet Cong also demands total U.S. withdrawal, a halt to bombing and mining of the North, and renunciation of support for Thieu.

Nixon Lays Low Before Election

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon apparently intends to keep his personal campaign schedule light—and his Republican profile low—right through the election four weeks from today.

Herbert G. Klein, director of communications for the administration, said Nixon will do substantially less personal campaigning in 1972 than he did two years ago.

That, of course, was a year in which he was not running but was campaigning for Republican congressional candidates.

Klein told newsmen Monday that, while Nixon's campaign schedule will be increasing in the final weeks, "I don't expect a full-time, full-blown effort ... in any week I can foresee."

If there is anything approaching an intensive road campaign, he said, it will come during the week before the Nov. 7 balloting.

Klein said that represents no change in strategy.

But the President and his spokesmen had given the impression that once Congress adjourned, as it is expected to do next weekend, he would be putting in considerably more time on the road.

His only campaign travel this week is scheduled Thursday, a one-day trip to Atlanta.

Two days of Nixon campaigning are likely next week.

Klein said the option for more intensive campaigning remains open. He declined to speculate as to exactly how many days Nixon will spend on the road, saying that no firm schedules have been set.

But every indication is that Nixon and his strategists have decided things are fine as they are with Vice President Spiro T. Agnew and nearly three dozen proxy campaigners doing the road work while the President stays close to the White House.

Klein said the campaign being conducted by administration and congressional figures—Nixon calls them surrogates and Democratic presidential nominee George McGovern calls them lackeys—is proving effective.

In the 1970 congressional campaign, with Republicans striving—unsuccessfully, it turned out—to take control of the Senate, Nixon campaigned in 23 states, much of it during an eight-day stint just before the election.

Klein said administration campaigners see no evidence that McGovern is making headway with his campaign charge that Nixon is hiding in the White House or, indeed, on other issues.

"Except for the District of Columbia, we're ahead in every poll we see," Klein said. "I don't think that means we're going to carry every state." He said the outlook is for close contests in some major states, mentioning California, Massachusetts and Michigan as examples.

Nixon's campaign is geared to gain the presidential votes of Democrats dissatisfied with McGovern. In what campaigning he has done, Nixon has not mentioned his Republicanism. The campaign advertising does not identify him as a Republican.

School Board Against Tax Repeal Move

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The crescendo of opposition to repeal of Ohio's new state income tax was joined Monday by the state Board of Education.

A resolution adopted by the board by a 20-1 vote said "any effort to eliminate present financing would be detrimental to the 2,700,000 children now attending school."

The one dissenting vote was cast by Mrs. Margaret Skelly of Parma.

Two other members, Francis Spiser of Akron and Ward Miller of Portsmouth, abstained. They indicated they were objecting to the appropriateness of the board action rather than taking a position on the income tax issue.

A proposed constitutional amendment to repeal the income tax is expected to be on the Nov. 7 ballot. Since it became apparent that the proposal would go to a statewide vote, a number of anti-repeal campaigns have been mobilized and teacher and labor groups have voiced opposition to the amendment.

In other action Monday the board: —Adopted a new plan for distributions of federal National Defense Education Act funds, based upon economic need. The matching funds totaled $2.5 million for the 1971-72 year. —Suspended for 90 days the teaching certificate of Jennifer Starn for having resigned a teaching position with the Circleville School Board after July 10 without its consent to take a job in the Lancaster School District.

Claim Phony GOP Letter Hurt Muskie Primary Drive

By MARGARET GENTRY Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — White House aide Ken W. Clawson has acknowledged fabricating a letter which damaged the presidential campaign of Democratic Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, The Washington Post reported today. Clawson now denies the statement.

The newspaper quotes law-enforcement sources as saying the Clawson letter is the best example of a Republican strategy of sabotage directed at democratic presidential contenders as early as 1971, before the primary campaigns began.

The Post said FBI agents have established that the break-in and alleged bugging of Democratic national headquarters also stemmed from the same sabotage campaign directed by officials of the White House and the Committee for the Re-election of the President.

Another example, the Post said, was alleged attempts by Donald Herbert Segretti to recruit GOP undercover agents to disrupt Democratic activities.

The Post said Segretti, a former Treasury Department lawyer who now maintains offices in Marina Del Rey, Calif., has been identified in FBI reports as an operative of the Nixon campaign.

A spokesman for the Nixon committee, DeVan L. Shumway, said, "The article in the Post is a piece of fiction."

The Post quoted investigators as saying the sabotage campaign included: "Following members of Democratic candidates' families, forging letters and distributing them under the candidates' letterheads; leaking false and manufactured items to the press; throwing campaign schedules into disarray; seizing confidential campaign files, and investigating the lives of dozens of Democratic campaign workers."

Clawson, deputy director of White House communications, could not be reached for comment Monday night. A newsman who telephoned his home was told via the White House switchboard that he had retired for the night and that his wife did not wish to awaken him.

The document Clawson allegedly wrote was a letter to the editor of the Manchester (N.H.) Union Leader. It accused the Maine senator of condoning a racial slur against Americans of French-Canadian descent by referring to them as "Canucks."

The letter and editorial attacks on Muskie by the Union Leader's publisher, William Loeb, prompted Muskie to make the now-famous tearful

McGovern TV Address To Hammer At Viet War

DETROIT (AP) — Sen. George McGovern outlines his step-by-step plan to end the Vietnam war tonight after declaring that rumors of an impending peace settlement are "just election-eve talk" fostered by the Nixon administration.

McGovern said in advance of his speech, which aides consider one of the most crucial of his uphill presidential campaign, that the war remains

"the clearest and sharpest of all the issues between Richard Nixon and George McGovern on Nov. 7."

The half-hour program, taped Sunday, will be shown on the CBS network plus other stations at 7:30 p.m. (6:30 p.m. in the Central Time Zone only).

McGovern predicted in a speech Monday night to a $50-a-plate dinner in the Detroit suburb of Southfield that anyone who watches the telecast "will vote for the Democratic candidate for president on Nov. 7."

At the time it is shown, McGovern will be in Chicago for a speech to a $15-a-plate "people's dinner" planned for more than 7,000.

He scheduled speeches earlier in the day to a United Auto Workers rally in Detroit and another rally at Western Michigan University in Kalamazoo.

Although the specifics of McGovern's speech are being kept secret until just before air time, the Democratic nominee has indicated some of the points he will make.

He continued to dismiss the likelihood of an early Vietnam settlement while talking with reporters during an appearance at New York's Columbus Day parade, which drew cheers from his supporters and jeers from top Republican leaders.

"I hope they're true," he told a reporter who asked the candidate about the peace rumors. "But frankly I'm afraid it's just election-eve talk."

A statement issued by McGovern aides said that statistics about costs, casualties and extent of bombing show "that the war is not winding down," and listed a series of optimistic predictions from administration spokesmen which it said "reveal four years of bogus hopes."

Spending Limit Fight Readied

Claim President Usurps Powers

WASHINGTON (AP) — A historic confrontation between President Nixon and Congress over control of the federal purse is shaping up in the debate on the $250-billion spending limit Nixon seeks.

The President personally led what a White House spokesman called an intensive weekend lobbying effort to win the initial House vote, scheduled late today, in a spending-limit fight that could delay the adjournment of Congress.

Nixon promised in a nationwide political radio broadcast Saturday that his "spending ceiling would be absolute insurance that no new taxes will be required."

He did not put that particular statement in a time reference, though at another point of the speech, he said, "My goal is not only no tax increase in 1973, but no tax increase in the next four years."

The spending ceiling Nixon has proposed would apply only to the present fiscal year which began last July 1.

House Speaker Carl Albert said it would be "the biggest mistake of this century" for Congress to approve Nixon's proposal to give him unrestricted authority to decide which federal programs to cut to meet the $250-billion limit.

House leaders support an alternative that would authorize the President to recommend program cuts for a $250-billion limit but leave the final decision on whether to approve them to Congress.

"This is the biggest assault a president has ever made in peacetime on the legislative authority of the Congress of the United States," Albert said.

Man Held

For Murder

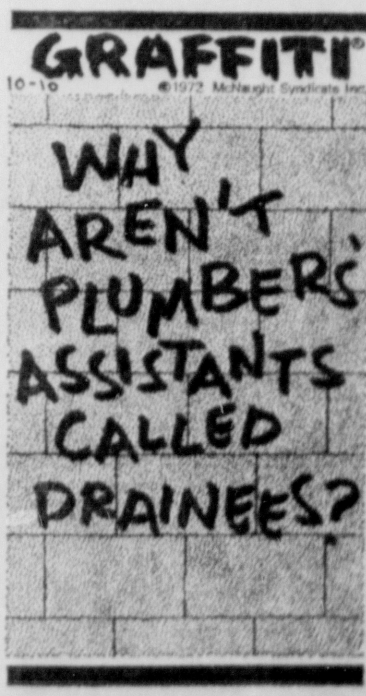

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Felton L. Lewis, a 27-year-old steelworker from Columbus, was charged today with first-degree murder in the death of a neighbor girl Saturday.

The nude body of Tonia K. Brown, 9, was discovered in an old stove oven in an unused garage early Sunday by two policemen.

Lewis was to appear in municipal court later today, police said.

Officers said they had not determined how, where or why the child was killed. They said a few marks were found on the girl's face but she had not been sexually abused.

Authorities were awaiting the results of an autopsy to determine the cause of death.

The newspaper quoted federal investigators as saying the GOP operation far surpasses the normal level of campaign intelligence gathering.

The Post said three attorneys told of being promised "big jobs" in government if they would act as undercover agents for the Nixon campaign and carry out various maneuvers to disrupt Democratic activities.

The Post said all three refused the offer. It identified them as Alex B. Shipley Jr. of Nashville, Tenn., Roger Lee Nix of Dennison, Iowa, and Kenneth Griffiths of Atlanta, all of whom served with Segretti in Vietnam.

Shipley, 30, a Democrat and now an assistant attorney general of Tennessee, was questioned about the Post account in an interview in Nashville Monday night.

Senate Seeks To Shut Off Filibuster On Busing Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — A first move to cut off Senate debate on a House-passed anti-busing bill failed today to win the necessary two-thirds majority.

The vote was 45 for and 37 against, or 10 short of the required margin.

Supporters of the bill had said they did not expect to prevail on this initial test of strength in the battle over sharply restricting busing for school desegregation.

But the groundwork already has been laid for another vote Wednesday on halting the debate. If necessary, still a third vote is in prospect for Thursday.

If a two-thirds majority cannot be obtained in three tries, the House-passed bill is likely to be shelved for the year.

Opponents contend the bill is a regressive one that would turn back the clock on nearly two decades of progress since the Supreme Court's landmark ruling in 1954 that "separate but equal" schools for blacks and whites are unconstitutional.

But backers of the bill claim majority support in the Senate and across the country, and say it is entitled to a yes-or-no vote rather than being smothered by a filibuster.

The bill would make busing for school desegregation a last resort, and even then would permit busing a child no farther than the next-nearest school to his home.

In addition, it would permit reopening old court orders for school desegregation to bring them in line with the bill's restrictions on busing.

The House passed the bill on Aug. 18 by a 282-102 vote, and President Nixon reiterated last week that he is against busing and wants Congress to act before it adjourns. Adjournment may come this weekend.

Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., a leader of the opposition, urged the Senate Monday not to be stampeded "under the triphammer pressure of the desire to adjourn."

He said the stakes are high, involving the future of "our children and our constitutional system of government." He said Congress could afford to wait a few months for the Supreme Court to rule on pending cases.

Unattended Children Are Helpless In Case Of Fire

Don't rely on Lady Luck in place of a good babysitter. Children left alone at home would be trapped and helpless if fire or another emergency occurred.

Never leave children alone or without proper supervision. Studies by the National Fire Protection Association show that one of every four children who die in fires is alone and helpless at the time of the tragedy.

Here are some guidelines for all parents to take for precautions to protect their youngsters from fire at home and a play:

Give babysitters specific instructions on what to do in an emergency. These include a tour of the house, pointing out at least two escape routes from each room; orders to get the children outside the instant anyone smells smoke or gas in the house; and instructions on how to get in touch with the fire department, parents, doctor and police.

Keep young children — age two and under — in constant sight and mind.

Teach older children how to use and respect fire. Remember that children learn best by their parents' good example.

Keep the house free of fire hazards. The fire department will cooperate by making a fire hazard inspection on request.

Teach children of all ages various ways to get out of the house safely in case of fire. Have them learn at least two escape routes from every room, rehearse the routes until everyone knows them by heart, and emphasize that once they are out of a burning building they must never go back inside for any reason.

Then the front-runner for the Democratic nomination, Muskie subsequently began to slip in the public-opinion polls and fared worse than expected in the New Hampshire primary in March.

The Post said information in the files of the FBI and Justice Department show that Republicans carried out a massive campaign of spying and sabotage during the primaries to throw their opponents into such disarray they could not mount a viable campaign against Nixon.

The newspaper quoted federal investigators as saying the GOP operation far surpasses the normal level of campaign intelligence gathering.

The Post said three attorneys told of being promised "big jobs" in government if they would act as undercover agents for the Nixon campaign and carry out various maneuvers to disrupt Democratic activities.

The Post said all three refused the offer. It identified them as Alex B. Shipley Jr. of Nashville, Tenn., Roger Lee Nix of Denison, Iowa, and Kenneth Griffiths of Atlanta, all of whom served with Segretti in Vietnam.

Shipley, 30, a Democrat and now an assistant attorney general of Tennessee, was questioned about the Post account in an interview in Nashville Monday night.

He confirmed that Segretti first contacted him in June 1971 in Washington.

Segretti attended a party at his apartment, and on the following day Shipley drove Segretti to Dulles International Airport. Proxmire Assassination Threat Bared In New Book

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. William Proxmire says he was threatened with assassination during the debate on the controversial Lockheed loan guarantee and changed the route of his morning jog to work to avoid "an easy sniper pickoff." Proxmire, the Senate's most famous jogger, made the disclosure in a new book in which he criticizes alleged military and domestic federal waste and calls for an end to most secret hearings in Congress and the executive branch. The Wisconsin Democrat had opposed the Nixon administration's ultimately successful bill to provide a $250 million loan guarantee to the Lockheed Aircraft Corp., the nation's largest defense contractor. In his book, entitled "Uncle Sam, Last of the Bigtime Spenders," Proxmire said threats to his life ultimately proved groundless but were taken seriously at the time because of the heat aroused by congressional debate. He gives this account: "There were even threats on my life and that of Henry Durham, a brave and courageous Lockheed employee who had bucked the company's wasteful practices. 'We got the FBI to protect Durham around the clock and I had the FBI and the Secret Service check out in detail the threats I received. 'One of them, a threat to come to Washington to kill me, was made by a Lockheed employee in Georgia before a group of his coworkers. 'When he was interviewed he claimed he said it in jest, but several of those who heard it reported to me and to the authorities precisely because they thought the man meant it. In the end no harm came to us.'"

Proxmire said almost every congressional hearing should be open to the public and press except when "matters of the most secret national security issues are involved."

He recommended that long before final decisions are made public hearings be held on budget programs on an agency-by-agency, department-by-department basis before presidential approval.

No Women's Pants In Atlanta Office
ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — John W. Stokes wears the pants in his office and he doesn't want any arguments about that.

Stokes, the U.S. attorney for the Northern District of Georgia, has one firm rule about the attire of the office secretaries—no pants suits. The gals, however, cast a wary eye toward the approaching winter and want the rule changed.

"We went through it last year and he wouldn't let us wear them," said one secretary. "Now it's getting cold again and we're going to try again."

Indiana Klan Has Cash, Member Trouble

(Editor's note: The Ku Klux Klan which reigned in Indiana in the 1920s is rebuilding in the 1970s. In the second article of a three part series Associated Press Writer Victoria Graham tells how police view the resurgence.)

By VICTORIA GRAHAM
Associated Press Writer
INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — In 1923 100,000 believers reportedly thronged a Ku Klux Klan rally in Kokomo and cheered the burning of a 40-foot cross.

Last March four Klansmen from Kokomo planted a crude seven-foot cross in a highway median strip and tried to light it—unsuccessfully.

Two men were arrested for littering by police who wryly observed the Klan can't even burn a cross properly these days.

Klan officials say their numbers are multiplying and their hierarchy of cyclopes, titans, goblins and night hawks is as appealing as ever.

But the story gleaned from police reports and court records shows a Klan that is struggling and frustrated. It shows listless to frenetic little meetings, defunct units or klaverns, ghost members, in-fighting, indebtedness, commercialism and continual scrapes with the law.

Despite its problems the Klan has grown from almost zero to 500 members in five years and police agencies regard it as potentially dangerous.

They warn that America thought the Klan was dead until a civil rights worker was murdered in Alabama in 1965 and school buses were blown up in Pontiac, Mich. Last year Klansmen were indicted in both cases.

Police agencies regularly

"work" in the Indiana Klan admit infiltrating it and paying Klansmen to turn informer. State and local police agreed to be interviewed by The Associated Press only if they were not identified.

They claim to have thwarted plans to throw acid on cars at NAACP meetings, to bomb buildings of blacks or "leftists"—even to beat and murder an informer last June in Elkhart.

The presence of police and informers in the Klan has created such concern nationally that the National United Klans of America has ordered all realms to purchase polygraph machines (lie detectors) to flush out informers.

Police say Indiana's $500 machine will be purchased by Richard Shoff, a successful Indianapolis businessman and member of the Klan's Grand Board. But Indiana Grand Dragon William Chaney of Indianapolis is noncommittal about the machine.

Police give this account of Klan strength in Indiana: Indianapolis—two klaverns, one "secret" klavern, one women's auxiliary; Evansville—one klavern; Fort Wayne—one klavern; Kokomo—one klavern one auxiliary; Peru—one klavern; Greenfield—one klavern one auxiliary; Marion—one klavern one auxiliary; Elkhart—two klaverns, one auxiliary; Hammond—two klaverns; Elwood—one klavern, one auxiliary.

Chaney says the Klan has active members in all 92 counties. Police say the most active units are in Kokomo, Marion and Elkhart. About 10 to 15 persons attend regular meetings. Women's auxiliaries meet infrequently police say and amount to little more than sewing circles.

Police also say the Klan's claims about a youth corps are exaggerated greatly although young persons are a target in the membership which mostly is between 30 and 40 years old.

The basic klavern size has been reduced from 25 to 15. Chaney says Klan policy is to divide a klavern "like a Sunday School class so it can grow more rapidly."

But police say the reason for the reduction is to make sure every Klansman has a title and no one is on the bottom of the klavern heap.

Another change is the elimination of colored robes for different officials "to put everyone on the same level" according to Chaney who doesn't want to relinquish his own green satin robe with an embroidered red dragon.

The largest rally of the resurgent Klan was held in August at Roselawn in northwestern Indiana. About 200 men, women and children ate potluck dinner, danced to country music, listened to Imperial Wizard Robert Shelton and burned a 40-foot cross.

The ceremonial cross burning, according to tracts supplied The Associated Press, "signifies that Christ is the Light of the World. As light drives away the darkness and gloom, so a knowledge of the truth dispels ignorance and superstition."

Despite the Klan's attempt to change its image and "go political," violence and intimidation have not been wiped out. Despite the Christian symbolism, another kind of cross has been burned on doorsteps throughout the Hoosier state.

On Dec. 26, 1968, the Black Market, a black student cooperative in Bloomington, was fire-bombed and destroyed. Two men identified as a Klansman and sympathizer were charged; one was convicted.

On Aug. 21, 1969, Chaney and four other Klansmen were arrested near Ellettsville for illegal possession of dynamite. One pleaded guilty; two, including Chaney, received a directed verdict of acquittal; charges were dismissed against two others.

Last April seven crosses were burned in a Kokomo housing development, one to intimidate a black, the others to frighten suspected "stooges," police said. No one was arrested.

Leaflets saying "The Eyes of the Klan are on You" have been distributed occasionally to intimidate, according to police.

Chairman David Staples of the Indiana Civil Rights Commission says in many communities the Klan distributes "venomous, hateful literature to our young people. The inevitable result is increasingly bitter relationships in already volatile high schools."

The Klan is beset by legal problems and Chaney estimates $20,000 in the last three years has been poured into lawyers' pockets to defend its members and fight injunctions against meetings.

Court records reveal these felony convictions of some Klan leaders:

—Chaney, 50, convicted Feb. 28, 1972, in Washetown County Circuit Court, Ann Arbor, Mich. on charges of carrying a concealed handgun and tear gas canister. He was fined $50 required to pay court costs, and sentenced to 5 days in jail and five years probation. The conviction is being appealed.

—Jerry Cripe, 27, former Exalted Cyclops of the Elkhart klavern; convicted June 12, 1972, in Elkhart for possession of an illegal shotgun. Cripe, a former night club bouncer, now is in prison.

—Richard Shoff, 39, Indianapolis businessman, Grand Board member convicted Jan. 12, 1962 in Richmond, Indiana, for forging checks; paroled within two years.

—Jerry W. Tyler, 36, Fort Wayne factory worker and Fourth Province Kleagle; convicted Feb. 5, 1969, in Allen County of second degree burglary; received a one-year's suspended sentence.

—Railton D. Loy, 34, Elkhart factory worker and Third Province Kleagle; convicted March 16, 1962, in Jackson, Mich., for carrying a concealed weapon; paroled in 1965.

Police say many Klansmen have long records of misdemeanor arrests ranging from assaults to disturbing the peace.

Despite a chronic shortage of funds, Klan leaders manage to derive some revenue from their membership. On Feb. 13 at a Holiday Inn in Indianapolis, the Klan's Grand Board allocated $1,000 from the treasury to help Chaney buy a new Chevrolet for Klan business. The disbursement wiped out more than half the Klan's treasury, according to police.

Some Klan leaders also sell KKK neckties, cigarette lighters, flags and decals to their members.

Chaney complains bitterly about police "harassment" and says the FBI has interrogated Klansmen at their places of business and state police have set up roadblocks to get names and license numbers of Klansmen at rallies.

Views On TV - Radio

By JAY SHARBUTT
AP Television Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — America may have its TV Guide, but England shall always have its Radio Times. No matter that half the program listings concern television and have for some time now.

The magazine is published weekly by the British Broadcasting Corp., which would rather drink coffee than permit anything so tawdry as advertising on its broadcast frequencies.

Only BBC shows appear in the Times, which is about the size of an old Esquire, a few pages longer than TV Guide and costs about a dime, give or take a penny. There's more than a dime's worth of difference in the listings, though.

Take Sunday, Sept. 10, for example. At 11:45 p.m. New Yorkers were watching a Johnny Carson rerun, a Western and David Susskind, among other things.

At that hour on one of the BBC's two channels, Londoners were whooping it up with "Meditation," hosted by Simon Tugwell and described as "a programme, mainly of silence, for the end of the day."

Two days later, as we watched "Bonanza," "Hawaii Five-O" and all that, London observed "Wheelbase," a live report from Coventry about "the car the whole world wants to buy, the Jaguar XJ-12."

"Michael Frostick tests this 140 m.p.h. saloon on the track, compares it with foreign competitors and asks drivers why they will queue up two years to buy it," the listing said.

Shortly before 5:30 p.m. Wednesday, we were watching cartoons and reruns of old series. At that hour, "Joe and the Gladiator" was commencing in London. The plot had something for everybody.

"Joe Darling, an apprentice in a Tyneside shipyard, is in trouble home and at work. Then he meets old Mr. Prodhurst and his horse, 'Old Gladiator' and everything is suddenly different."

Just after 4:30 p.m. the next day, we had to put up with Mike Douglas and assorted old movies. I would have given an arm to watch the BBC offering instead.

It was "The Twenty-Seventh Annual African Hippopotamus Race."

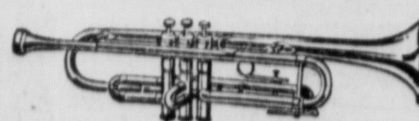

The BBC radio listings aren't like those in the colonies, either.

Saturday radio in London, for example, offers "The London Gardener," John Warren with what you should be doing this week," and "It's Saturday," Robbie Vincent's feast of pop, with competitions, supermums, records and things. Deductions, Please, at 493-5401."

Stick around until 2:20 p.m. You'll get "On the Move," news and views for Londoners who earn their living by driving lorries, taxis or buses.

—Jerry Cripe, 27, former Exalted Cyclops of the Elkhart klavern; convicted June 12, 1972, in Elkhart for possession of an illegal shotgun. Cripe, a former night club bouncer, now is in prison.

—Richard Shoff, 39, Indianapolis businessman, Grand Board member convicted Jan. 12, 1962 in Richmond, Indiana, for forging checks; paroled within two years.

—Jerry W. Tyler, 36, Fort Wayne factory worker and Fourth Province Kleagle; convicted Feb. 5, 1960, in Allen County of second degree burglary; received a one-year's suspended sentence.

—Railton D. Loy, 34, Elkhart factory worker and Third Province Kleagle; convicted March 16, 1962, in Jackson, Mich., for carrying a concealed weapon; paroled in 1965.

Police say many Klansmen have long records of misdemeanor arrests ranging from assaults to disturbing the peace.

Despite a chronic shortage of funds, Klan leaders manage to derive some revenue from their membership. On Feb. 13 at a Holiday Inn in Indianapolis, the Klan's Grand Board allocated $1,000 from the treasury to help Chaney by a new Chevrolet for Klan business. The disbursement wiped out more than half the Klan's treasury, according to police.

Some Klan leaders also sell KKK neckties, cigarette lighters, flags and decals to their members.

Chaney complains bitterly about police "harassment" and says the FBI has interrogated Klansmen at their places of business and state police have set up roadblocks to get names and license numbers of Klansmen at rallies.

Views On TV - Radio

By JAY SHARBUTT AP Television Writer NEW YORK (AP) — America may have its TV Guide, but England shall always have its Radio Times. No matter that half the program listings concern television and have for some time now.

The magazine is published weekly by the British Broadcasting Corp., which would rather drink coffee than permit anything so tawdry as advertising on its broadcast frequencies.

Only BBC shows appear in the Times, which is about the size of an old Esquire, a few pages longer than TV Guide and costs about a dime, give or take a penny. There's more than a dime's worth of difference in the listings, though.

Take Sunday, Sept. 10, for example. At 11:45 p.m. New Yorkers were watching a Johnny Carson rerun, a Western and David Susskind, among other things.

At that hour on one of the BBC's two channels, Londoners were whooping it up with "Meditation," hosted by Simon Tugwell and described as "a programme, mainly of silence, for the end of the day."

Two days later, as we watched "Bonanza," "Hawaii Five-O" and all that, London observed "Wheelbase," a live report from Coventry about "the car the whole world wants to buy, the Jaguar XJ-12."

"Michael Prostieck tests this 140 m.p.h. saloon on the track, compares it with foreign competitors and asks drivers why they will queue up two years to buy it," the listing said.

Shortly before 5:30 p.m. Wednesday, we were watching cartoons and reruns of old series. At that hour, "Joe and the Gladiator" was commencing in London. The plot had something for everybody.

"Joe Darling, an apprentice in a Tyneside shipyard, is in trouble home and at work. Then he meets old Mr. Prodhurst and his horse, 'Old Gladiator' and everything is suddenly different."

Just after 4:30 p.m. the next day, we had to put up with Mike Douglas and assorted old movies. I would have given an arm to watch the BBC offering instead.

It was "The Twenty-Seventh Annual African Hippopotamus Race."

The BBC radio listings aren't like those in the colonies, either.

Saturday radio in London, for example, offers "The London Gardener," John Warren with what you should be doing this week, and "It's Saturday," Robbie Vincent's feast of pop, with competitions, supermums, records and things. Deductions, Please, at 493-5401."

Stick around until 2:20 p.m. You'll get "On the Move," news and views for Londoners who earn their living by driving lorries, taxis or buses.

Playing With POWs

Whatever criterion was used by the North Vietnamese to decide on the release of three American airmen, it is obvious from the long delay in permitting them to leave for home that propaganda value was among the top considerations.

Hanoi knows that the United States officially will have little to say about the manner in which POWs are released. The cards, after all, are in North Vietnam's hands. And it is capable of playing them as brutally as possible.

Never mind that the prisoners already have suffered the mental and physical tortures of enslavement in a hostile land. It does not count that their families have suffered equally with them. The only important consideration, in Hanoi's view, is that it capitalize on each release to the fullest extent possible.

Thus it will deal with unofficial anti-war groups, it will parade the POWs before microphones and cameras for awkward statements, it will take them on tours to show them alleged damage from American bombs, and it will delay their departure for home until the last unexpected moment.

In short, they cannot even be humane about releasing prisoners.

Deficit But Improved

In matters of trade and international finance, the United States measures its progress these days in terms of how much less bad performance was in a period from a previous one. Thus, the August trade figures are hailed as the best in the last eight months, though they reflect a deficit of more than $460 million.

Not since last January has the monthly trade deficit been that "little." There has not been a surplus since September of 1971. The total deficit to date for 1972 is approximately $4.3 billion.

Exports in August grew at about twice the rate of imports, a favorable trend but one which will continue to produce deficits for many months. Something more dramatic than a nibbling process is needed. The Japanese promise to purchase $1 billion more in American goods and the Soviet wheat deal will help. When these transactions are entered on the books, the deficit swing will take a dramatic downturn.

Horoscope Forecast

By Carroll Righter

WEDNESDAY'S HOROSCOPE

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Very surprising and startling events can occur today, largely because almost everyone gets an idea and has no patience or thought to think it out intelligently but wants action without necessary preparation. Take time to view all factors of this situation and to gain right perspective.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Make an appointment to see that new contact instead of just barging in, or you meet with instant opposition. Study a new plan well if you want it to be a success. Don't take anything for granted—be sure.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Exercise self-control and study all those money and other matters well so you know just how to handle them successfully. Forcing mate to go along with your spontaneous ideas is not good. Use diplomacy.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Gentle prodding is best if you feel that associates are not carrying their fair share of workload, and then you find all improves. An outsider is going against you. Handle this matter diplomatically.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Although you are not in the mood to get all that work done that is important, take a little exercise and delve right into it. Then all works out successfully. Not a good day for making changes in wardrobe.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) You need the right kind of recreation today but make sure it is not too expensive, then you raise lagging spirits. A word of enfeeblishment. Show you are loyal, courage to mate brings true.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Using your temper at home is not good, but doing something constructive about the situation there is fine. An opportunity presents itself to prove your ingenuity in the face of an emergency. Use good common sense, judgment.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Don't deliberate so much over shopping and appointments you want to make that you get nothing done at all. Attend to these early and all is fine. Show good friends, neighbors that you really appreciate them.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Stop worrying about what cannot be helped and get busy with that plan that will give you more of this world's goods. Study how one who is most successful did it and follow along such lines yourself. However, add an original touch of your own.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Know what your own hopes and desires are and be sure to weed out those that are unacceptable. Gad about in a social way and gain results thusly, in p.m. Forget long gabfests on the phone. Use time wisely.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) You have some wise plan in mind that needs only the advice of an expert to iron out the kinks, and then you can put in fine operation yourself. Don't come out with rash comments that could alienate good associates. Think before you speak.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Find a better way to gain own aims of a personal nature and get the cooperation of good pals by being cooperative yourself. Don't come out with rash comments that could alienate good associates. Think before you speak.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) If you are objective with higher-ups, you find you can accomplish much in your community latter and have more harmony at home as well. Pay that bill about which you are being pressured. Show you are a cheerful person.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY . . . he or she will be one of those delightful young people who will always have something to say and very likely will put the cart before the horse if not taught early to think well before coming out with comments of any kind, or to plan well before tackling any job. Be sure to teach this early and then send to right schools where this articulate youngster can make the most of the fine talents deep in the subconscious in this chart. Much work in foreign lands denoted.

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

by LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

I had an experience in the practice of medicine recently that made me more sharply aware of how easy it is for a mature person to become involved in the drug scene.

A man, aged 40, looked the proverbial picture of the football halfback. His major complaint was an inability to breathe through his nose.

When I asked if he smoked, he spontaneously volunteered, "No, I have never smoked, and have never had a taste of alcohol."

He seemed so proud of this that I was dumbfounded when a moment later he casually stated that he had been sniffing cocaine for two years.

His explanation was naive. He said he was in a tension-producing business, and that he first tried cocaine-sniffing when on a European business trip.

He said, and seemed to mean it, that it never occurred to him there might be a relationship between his inability to breathe and his cocaine habit.

It was even a shocking surprise to him when I called this habit a "true drug addiction." Cocaine can cause total degeneration of the delicate lining of the nose, and make its functioning ineffective.

Millions of tiny hair cells, or cilia, propel mucus and foreign bodies out of the nose. The lining warms excessively cold air, and cools extraordinarily hot air.

All of these major functions were lost in this man's nose, poisoned by the effects of cocaine. The progress from trying a drug to permanent addiction is a very sly, subtle one. If it can occur in a responsible business man, the head of a large organization and the father of two children, can we project ourselves into the ease with which youngsters can be ensnared into the catastrophic trap?

I read the report of a patient who had just completed a multiphasic medical examination.

I was intrigued by the fact that the report started with this phrase: "This screening has just completed being screened, and the following is our findings . . ."

Within the framework of this opening line lies the unfortunate loss of patient's identity.

She was a number, a computerized digit, who had a flat, one-dimensional portrait.

Rival Elites

By JEFFERY HART

Earlier in the century, social scientists were taught by such European thinkers as Vilfredo Pareto and Gaetano Mosca to recognize the central role of so-called elites in the political process. Political conflict was, in this view, a struggle between competing elites. Political change was the replacement or absorption of one elite by another.

Whatever the "issues" that separate George McGovern and Richard Nixon, it is also true that the current election, viewed coldly and analytically, involves a struggle for power between rival elites.

Richard Nixon is supported by, and reflects, the more traditional commercial and industrial elite. His ties with the business world generally, with Wall Street and the banking community, and with the so-called Military-Industrial Complex (formerly the Arsenal of Democracy) are too obvious to require comment.

The McGovern candidacy, in contrast, is almost entirely the creation of a new and rival elite produced by the vast expansion of the communications-knowledge industry during the years following World War II and, most dramatically, during the 1960's.

In a fascinating article published in the Summer 1972 issue of "The Public Interest," Rep. Edith Green, highest ranking Democratic member of the House Education and Labor Committee, calls this new elite the Education-Poverty Industrial Complex (EPI).

The point is that members of the Complex have a vested interest in the discovery and (or) fabrication of problems—and poverty is only one. Pollution, ecology, race relations, educational experiment real or phony: all of these things produce bonanzas in the form of Federal cash for the Complex.

When George McGovern calls for "a re-ordering of priorities," what he is really demanding is that large sums of money be shifted from the old elite to the new one. Beneath the rhetoric, that is the name of the game: power, status, and money.

Amusingly enough, Rep. Green finds that the Education-Poverty Industrial Complex is a kind of mirror-image of the Military-Industrial Complex. It, too, has its huge cost overruns, its Edsels and its F-11's, its project duplication, boondoggles, captive Congressmen, publicists, lobbyists and outright crooks.

Rep. Green has been particularly interested in the Federal Office of Education, though, she notes, this is only one small segment of the EPI Complex. It gives out some $5 billions per year; under a "re-ordering of priorities," of course, this might easily increase to $10 or $20 billion. "We have entered," writes Rep. Green, "the era of the large-scale education industry, complete with all the excesses that often appear in a burgeoning big business . . . What I have learned has not been encouraging. Studies made at my request by my staff and by the General Accounting Office have revealed serious irregularities in numerous areas. Over and over again, we have found educators enriching themselves at public expense through sizeable consulting fees, often for work for which there is no record at all. Over and over again we have found educators using public funds for research projects that have turned out to be esoteric, irrelevant, and often not even research . . . Over and over a project would be escalated into a far bigger activity than originally proposed or planned, with vast additional funds being allocated by the Office of Education through a non-competitive, non-reviewed amendment procedure rather than through the normal process of funding approval."

Pareto and Mosca would have smiled. As you can easily see, there are some pretty gut issues involved in this election.

WASHINGTON MEMO

By Congressman CHALMERS P. WYLIE
15th District of Ohio

The legislative week opened with the Senate passing an appropriations bill to fund the Department of Defense. Since it had already been approved by the House, the measure now awaits action by a Senate-House Conference Committee.

On the House side, the Suspension Calendar was called. This is a special procedure where bills that appear to be non-controversial can be brought up for a brief period of debate and passed by a two-thirds vote, since the normal Rules of the House are suspended. The first suspension was a bill to exclude corporations and labor organizations from the present legal prohibitions against government contractors making campaign contributions or engaging in certain political activities. If passed by one vote.

The Anti-Hijacking Act of 1972 easily received the two-thirds majority. It is designed to help deal with the serious problem of terrorists hijacking that has recently been plaguing commercial aviation.

An emergency medical services bill was passed to authorize financial assistance for planning, development, and the initial operation of research, and training projects for systems designed to provide effective health care services under conditions of civil emergency.

Another suspension bill authorizes the continuation, repair, and preservation of certain public works projects on rivers, harbors and for flood control.

The last suspension bill approved was a joint resolution that extends for one month the various housing insurance authorities of the Federal Housing Administration. This was required because the Housing and Urban Development Act of 1972 will not be enacted in sufficient time to meet the expiration of this authority on October 1.

One suspension failed. This was a controversial bill to give the President authority to restrain travel by American citizens to any country or area whose military forces are engaged in armed conflict with the United States. Such travel could be allowed if the President felt that it was in the national interest. This measure has been nicknamed the "Jane Fonda Bill" because it was a direct legislative response to her actions while traveling in North Vietnam. It received a vote of 230 yeas to 140 nays but this was short of the two-thirds vote required under Suspension of the Rules.

The House passed legislation to provide for the construction of a civic and convention center

On Wednesday, the Congress received a message from the President in which he announced his veto of a bill to amend the Railroad Retirement Act of 1937 which would provide a temporary 20 per cent increase in annuities. The veto message contended that the legislation did not contain adequate provisions to fund the increase and that Railroad cases, were already substantially higher than the Social Security benefits. This is consistent with the President's announced position that he will veto all measures which he believes to be fiscally irresponsible.

Subsequently, both the House and the Senate voted to override the President's veto and the temporary increase will become law.

The House concluded the week by passing legislation to authorize appropriations for construction of federal highway projects. A controversial amendment was defeated on the House Floor which would divert $800 million from the Highway Trust Fund to finance urban mass transit systems.

According To Boyle

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Remarks a secretary gets tired of hearing:

"Honey, if you want to get to the top in this outfit, you have to learn the right lap to sit on."

"Good heavens, I knew you probably couldn't spell. But can't you take dictation either?"

"What do you—I'm mumbling, Miss Grant? It is impossible for a Harvard man to mumble."

"Give me a buzz the first time the boss is in a good humor, will you? I want to hit him up for a raise, and I don't want to try it when he's in a bad mood."

"I don't just want a girl Friday. I want a girl Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and some-time weekends."

"I know it doesn't look right for an executive to borrow money from his secretary, Miss Grant. But can you let me have $20 until day after tomorrow?"

"If my wife calls, I'm in conference. If it's any other woman, put her on the line."

"Miss Grant, are you sure you spell sour apples the same way you spell sauerkraut?"

"You're always complaining that you never know where I am when there's an emergency in the office, Miss Grant. Hasn't it ever occurred to you, Miss Grant, that if there's an emergency, that is the precise time I want you to be able to reach me?"

"The trouble with secretaries is that they keep trying to act like their bosses. As soon as I started drinking a three-martini lunch, my secretary jumped from a one to a two - martini lunch."

"Phoebe Grant, I think you must have fallen in love with your boss. No girl could work for a heel like him unless she loved him."

"Miss Grant, I see you have spelled the world sterilize with an 'uh' in it again. Really, Miss Grant, really!"

"I don't see why you have trouble making both ends meet on the salary I pay you, Miss Grant. Don't some of these salesmen you let into the office to see me slip you a $5 or $10 on the side, now and then?"

"To hell with answering letters today. I'm upset. My wife is giving me trouble again. In spades. Do you want to listen while I bend your ears with my troubles?"

"Good afternoon, Miss Grant. Oh, is it still morning? You're so late today that I thought maybe you'd stop off for lunch before you came in."

"Please, Miss Grant, patient as I am. I can't put up with spelling delinquent with a 'kw' in it."

"You mean that Mr. Smarty Pants you work for had the nerve to send you a Merriam Webster dictionary for Christmas? My boss gave me a $50 gift certificate."

"I'm in a big rush to get away for the weekend, Miss Grant. Will you stay late tonight and answer these letters? You know what I want to say as well as I do. Don't forget to put in a tab for $2 or so for dinner."

"Don't you get tired, Phoebe, or ordering all those theater tickets and anniversary roses for your boss's wife? Don't you sometimes wish they were for you instead?"

CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP) — The twice-delayed securities violations case of Florida business tycoon Glenn W. Turner was set for trial again today despite nearly a week of legal moves by his lawyers to take it out of the hands of a state court here.

In related actions Monday, one of Turner's codefendants, William Humphries, agreed to turn state's evidence in return for immunity and three of Turner's business associates went to jail for refusing to answer a grand jury's questions.

Judge Krentzman's order was issued 90 minutes after Pinellas County Circuit Judge William A. Patterson had postponed the trial and sent prospective jurors home.

He directed them to return today for proceedings under rules of conduct that bar newsmen, attorneys, defendants or prospective jurors from discussing the case. Reporters further have been warned to confine their accounts to testimony and evidence as it unfolds in the courtroom.

In his trial, Turner faces 86 counts of violating Florida's securities laws in sales of "Dare to Be Great," a motivational course and subsidiary of Glenn W. Turner Enterprises. Humphries was charged with 50 counts while the third codefendant, David Baumann, was named on 36 counts of selling unregistered securities.

Humphries a "Dare to Be Great" area director from Tampa told Judge Patterson Monday he wanted to turn state's evidence and fire his attorney, Arnold Levine.

He was immediately granted immunity by the state and spent much of the rest of the day behind closed doors with prosecutors.

Meanwhile, three Turner associates turned themselves in to Pinellas County Jail in Clearwater Monday to begin serving 60-day contempt sentences handed down by Circuit Judge B. J. Driver when they refused to talk to a grand jury last month.

Local Rainbow Members Assist Waverly Installation

Several members of the Marie L. Hamilton Assembly No. 170 International Order of Rainbow for Girls attended the 33rd Installation of Officers of the Waverly Assembly No. 158 held in the Masonic Temple in Waverly Sept. 30.

Miss Kathy Litter, worthy adviser of the local Assembly, served as chaplain during the installation ceremony. Miss Patricia Murray, past worthy adviser of the Waverly Assembly and supreme carnation girl, was the installing worthy adviser and brought special greetings to the some 200 members and guests in attendance.

Miss Barbara Kallner, a member of the Lucasville Assembly, provided background organ music for the ritualistic service when the officers were presented before the altar for their adomition and to receive the obligation of their office. Miss Liza Sue Caughlan, the new worthy adviser, knelt at the altar for prayer after receiving her jewel of office.

In explaining her theme, "People — There's no place like People," Miss Caughlan told the assembled guests she had chosen as a motto "To be closer to God, be closer to people" for her term, and as her scripture, "Love must be completely sincere. Hate what is evil. Hold on to what is good. Love one another warmly as brothers in Christ, and be eager to show respect for one another." Romans 12:9-10. Her colors are to be white and the colors of the Rainbow — red, orange, yellow, green, blue, indigo and violet. The candle, amid red roses, has been selected as the symbol and flower Liza will use during the fall term.

Miss Sue Heffelfinger junior past worthy adviser of the Marie L. Hamilton Assembly and the Grand Lecturer of District 16 for the Grand Assembly of Ohio, was in charge of the trophy presentation.

EDITOR'S NOTE — We welcome letters to the editor. In order to be considered for publication, they must bear the correct name and address of the writer. Dear Editor:

I have been reading with some amazement that there are people who are quite upset over the decision of the Board of Elections not to have area registration. Their primary reason for being upset seems to be that the metropolitan areas did it and we did not.

In these days, when our tax money seems to be so freely spread around, I, for one, am happy that the Board of Elections saw fit to be conservative with my tax dollars. If the polling places were opened for area registration, it would be necessary to have two people at each location, 1 Republican and 1 Democrat. This means that each location would cost about $36. There are 51 polling places in the county! This does not include postage for notifying workers, mileage etc. Also, registration is not just a matter of writing down a person's name and address but requires getting exact information on their residence, township, school district, date and place of birth and other information. This information goes into permanent records, which the Board of Elections office is very careful to have completely accurate so that no one's eligibility to vote might be challenged at an election. Therefore, it would be necessary to go to the additional expense of having a school for the workers.

The thing that has shocked and upset me the most are the accusations that the Board of Elections does not want people to register or that they have something to fear! During the past year, I have helped out in this office during especially busy times. One cannot help being impressed by the thoroughness of the office force.

They are most careful to see that everyone's permanent record is correct, leaving no room for ineligibility to vote. Special hours have been set up for people to register. Incidentally, not many people took advantage of the extra hours. Signs have been posted in the downtown area reminding people to register and stating the special hours. Cards are sent out to people who have allowed their registration to expire, offering to reinstate them if they so desire. Disabled people who wish to be registered need only to call the office and arrangements are made for someone to call at the home.

Opinions may not be changed as to whether we should have had area registration or not. But please, know these people and how they serve you before making unfair accusations.

Dear Editor:

I feel that the specifics of Sen. McGovern's proposed alternate defense budget have not reached the public and have been badly distorted by his opposition. If I may, I wish to cover the well-known and the little-known aspects of McGovern's defense proposals.

Everyone knows McGovern's goal is to reduce military spending by 32.5 billion dollars over the next three years. McGovern would halt the V-1 bomber and Trident projects. The Trident is to be a huge submarine mounted with 24 intercontinental missile launchers and equipped with MIRVs. Just how practical is such a monstrosity? McGovern would stop the development of the ABM but would continue research. In 1969, Agnew cast his tie-breaking vote to secure funding of the controversial ABM. That's how controversial it is. Also, everyone knows McGovern's wishes to cut military personnel, civilian Dept. of Defense personnel, and American European personnel. More top brass command 2.3 million men today than we had to command 12 million men at the end of World War II. His personnel cuts would hope to eliminate this top-heaviness in the military. Lastly, McGovern would cut Navy anti-aircraft carriers from 16 to 6.

Not everyone knows the following, however. McGovern would expand the U.S. nuclear attack submarine fleet from the currently planned force of 69 to 84. He would maintain 600,000 reserves with improvement of combat capabilities. He would modernize close air support and air superiority aircraft. He would improve sealift capacity. Lastly, he would create a Permanent Commission of Defense Review whose responsibilities would be to keep Congress thoroughly informed on defense and national security, and to prepare annually an alternate budget to allow flexibility in the budget.

Secretary of Defense Laird has indicated that in the future the military budget would be kept near 7 per cent of the G.N.P. This means approximately a $5.6 billion increase each year in military spending. The Administration has yet to explain how defense needs relate to G.N.P.

McGovern would not cut into the heart of our defense. He would have the capability to strike 3500 targets and, needless to say, the capability of destroying Russia 12 times over instead of 20 times over. Let's not forget Eisenhower's warning in 1961 that if the military takes too much, it weakens the nation by undermining other areas of national strength.

McGovern has said that his plan is that the U.S. should be strong enough to deter hostile countries from thinking they will benefit by attacking us. He says we can strengthen our defense by emphasis on a deterrent system composed of nuclear submarines, land-based missiles and manned bombers. I believe him.

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a man who is 54 years old, weighs 240 pounds, has a belly that looks like a pregnant woman ready to deliver, and walks around the house naked as a newborn baby?

I think it's revolting! I don't mind that he sleeps in the nude, but waltzing around the house without a stitch is really too much! Yes, I know we have had a hot summer, but if I can stand it, he can stand it, and we do have fans in every room.

Deputy Foils Jail Escape; Hostage Freed By Inmates

BATAVIA, Ohio (AP) — Authorities continued a probe today to determine what charges should be filed against seven prisoners who attempted a breakout from the Clermont County Jail.

County deputy sheriff Robert Krekeler, who stopped by the jail to pick up warrants to serve, thwarted the escape attempt Sunday night and enabled jailer Stephen Schenker to break away from the prisoners.

Sheriff Donald Watson said the prisoners had taken Schenker hostage, and bound and gagged him. One inmate was holding a sharp object at Schenker's head as the group moved toward the outside of the building housing the jail.

But Krekeler, who had been on road patrol, surprised the prisoners, pulled his gun and said, "Turn him loose or I'll drop you where you are," Watson said. Schenker was not hurt.

Watson said the attempt started at about 10 p.m. when one of the inmates, Glenn Parker, 25, of Moscow, Ohio, asked to use a telephone. When Schenker started to lead him from his cell, the jailer was grabbed around the neck by Walter Abercrombie, 22, of New Richmond, Watson continued.

Ernest Baker, 21; Dana Edwards, 27; and Ronald Simmons, 18; also confined on the third floor of the building, joined Parker and Abercrombie, Watson said.

Two prisoners on the second floor—John Blair, 19, and James Dolch Jr., 18—went along with the other five, Watson said.

Eight other prisoners in the jail refused to take part in the breakout attempt.

Deputy Foils Jail Escape; Hostage Freed By Inmates

BATAVIA, Ohio (AP) — Authorities continued a probe today to determine what charges should be filed against seven prisoners who attempted a breakout from the Clermont County Jail.

County deputy sheriff Robert Krekeler, who stopped by the jail to pick up warrants to serve, thwarted the escape attempt Sunday night and enabled jailer Stephen Schenker to break away from the prisoners.

Sheriff Donald Watson said the prisoners had taken Schenker hostage, and bound and gagged him. One inmate was holding a sharp object at Schenker's head as the group moved toward the outside of the building housing the jail.

But Krekeler, who had been on road patrol, surprised the prisoners, pulled his gun and said, "Turn him loose or I'll drop you where you are," Watson said. Schenker was not hurt.

Watson said the attempt started at about 10 p.m. when one of the inmates, Glenn Parker, 25, of Moscow, Ohio, asked to use a telephone. When Schenker started to lead him from his cell, the jailer was grabbed around the neck by Walter Abercrombie, 22, of New Richmond, Watson continued.

Ernest Baker, 21; Dana Edwards, 27; and Ronald Simmons, 18; also confined on the third floor of the building, joined Parker and Abercrombie, Watson said.

Two prisoners on the second floor—John Blair, 19, and James Dolch Jr., 18—went along with the other five, Watson said.

Eight other prisoners in the jail refused to take part in the breakout attempt.

Pirates Pop Reds To Take One Game NL Series Lead

By RALPH BERNSTEIN
Associated Press Sports Writer
CINCINNATI (AP) — The Pittsburgh Pirates are going to steal a leaf from the book of the Cincinnati Reds and try to win the National League pennant today with the help of a score-arm pitcher—Doc Ellis.

The Pirates hope they have better luck than the Reds.

Cincinnati pinned its hopes Monday on the ailing right arm of Gary Nolan, but the pressure of going all-out against the power-packed Pittsburgh lineup took its toll.

Nolan could manage only six innings. His arm stiffened and he left with a one-run lead that the Pirates overcame to take a 2-1 lead in the best-of-five pennant playoff.

"I went as hard as I could for as long as I could," said the dejected Nolan, who had pitched 15 innings since the All-Star Game in July. "I just ran out of gas. I couldn't afford to continue."

Ellis' story is almost a carbon copy. The 27-year-old right-hander has a chronic pitching elbow condition. He went six innings Sept. 30 but it was his first start since Sept.

The Pirates' 3-2 victory Monday was keyed by outfielder Rennie Stennett and catcher Manny Sanguillen and relief pitcher Bruce Kison. Ever-reliable Dave Giusti came on to check the Reds' big bats after Pittsburgh wiped out a 2-0 Cincinnati lead.

Stennett made the first big play. Cincinnati's Johnny Bench tripled leading off the fourth. The Reds already led 2-0 and it looked as if they were out to get another run.

Pirates' starter Nelson Briles got Tony Perez on a nice, running back-to-the plate catch in short left by shortstop Gene Alley. He then walked Denis Menke. The Reds now had runners at the corners with one out. Cesar Geronimo hit a fly ball to Stennett in left, and the outfielder gunned down Bench trying to score after the catch. It was a perfect one-bounce, on-the-money throw to Sanguillen.

"That beat us," said Cincinnati Manager Sparky Anderson, who still insisted the playoff would go five games. "I thought that was the turning point of the game," murmured Anderson. "Our report was that Stennett had a better-than-average arm, but wasn't that accurate."

Stennett's throw seemed to fire the Pirates. A half-inning later, Sanguillen scored a pitch over the left-centerfield fence for a home run to make it 2-1.

"When I left the dugout, someone warned me to look for curve balls," recalled Sanguillen. "I said, 'No, I'll look for fast balls.'"

Pittsburgh tied it in the seventh off relievers Pedro Borbon and Clay Carroll when Richie Hebner was hit by a pitch. Sanguillen singled and Gene Alley sacrificed to place runners at second and third. Pinch-hitter Vic Davallillo was intentionally walked. Stennett then rapped a run-scoring single.

In the eighth, Willie Stargell walked and Al Oliver doubled. Hebner was purposely passed to load the bases.

Sanguillen hit a sharp grounder toward the hole between short and third that Cincinnati's Darrell Chaney reached and tried for a second-to-first doubleplay. Sanguillen, however, beat the relay and the winning run scored.

NBA Opens 27th Season Tonight

By ALEX SACHARE
Associated Press Sports Writer
The National Basketball Association opens its 27th season tonight—with Wilt Chamberlain, but apparently without Willis Reed, Bob Rule, Archie Clark and Lennie Wilkens; with Kansas City-Omaha, but without Cincinnati; and with Rick Barry, but without Billy Cunningham and Julius Erving.

Chamberlain, the 7-foot-2 veteran who led the Lakers to the NBA championship last season, resolved his contractual difficulties with Los Angeles Monday and may be ready for the Lakers' season opener Wednesday night.

Eight NBA teams begin their 82-game schedules tonight. The New York Knicks, beaten by Los Angeles in the 1971-72 championship finals, host Seattle, while Philadelphia is at Chicago. Atlanta plays at Buffalo and Baltimore opens at Cleveland.

The Lakers open defense of their NBA championship in Omaha the following night against the Kansas City-Omaha Kings, the franchise which was shifted from Cincinnati after last season. Other NBA clubs open later in the week.

The American Basketball Association schedule begins Thursday night, with the defending champion Indiana Pacers visiting Memphis to play the newly-renamed Rams. Also Thursday, Carolina meets Virginia at Richmond and Denver is at Utah. Other teams open play Friday and Saturday.

Chamberlain, who still had a year to go on his $250,000-a-year, two-year contract had sought to have the pact renegotiated. However a settlement apparently has been reached but details as to the amount or length of the contract were not disclosed.

Reed, the 6-10 center who led the Knicks to the NBA championship in 1969-70 but has been bothered by tendonitis in his knees the past two years, suffered a thigh bruise in pre-season training and was placed on the disabled list Monday.

more than half of the crowd had left in disgust at the performance.

The unhappy mood spread to the TV audience. The Astro-dome state crew estimated 75 calls came in from as far away as Canada, blasting everything from the Oilers to the television commentary.

The Oilers, getting their first chance at the Monday night spectacle since 1970, got a severe case of stage fright and stuttered to only 69 yards in total net offense—their worst offense showing in history.

The Oakland defense, ranked first in the AFC in pass defense, picked off five Oiler passes and dropped several other possible interceptions.

The Raiders, who lost four of four fumbles, kept plugging and finally got their offense started.

"I told them at the half all we have to do is settle down and something will come our way," Oakland Coach John Madden said. "On offense, so many untimely things happened to us. They had a good pass rush. They went all out."

Field goals of 46 and 35 yards by Blanda and a 16-yard touchdown pass to Fred Biletnikoff gave Oakland a 13-0 lead going into the fourth quarter when the bottom fell out on the Oilers.

Lamonica hit rookie Mike Siani for a 27-yard TD to open the last period and interceptions by Nemiah Wilson and Otis Sistrunk set up the final two TDs—a 14-yard run by Clarence Davis and a 2-yard pass from Ken Stabler to tight end Bob Moore.

The last two TDs were only 29 seconds apart.

Typical of the Oilers' performance was the second quarter when defensive end Greg Sampson fell on an Oakland fumble at the Raider two-yard line.

Instead of taking it in, the Oilers lost 15 yards on two plays and had an attempted field goal blocked by Art Thoms, who also intercepted a pass.

Doug Adams Proves Worth To Bengals

CINCINNATI (AP) — Ohio State graduate Doug Adams capitalized fully on a rare opportunity to play in place of linebacker Bill Bergey when Cincinnati downed Denver Sunday.

The scrappy, second-year linebacker recorded eight unassisted tackles and deflected one pass in the Bengals' 21-10 victory and said, "there is no doubt it was the highlight of my pro career."

When informed of his statistics, Adams said, "I must have sneaked up on somebody. But I played as well as I hoped and I was pretty happy."

The 22-year-old player from Xenia, Ohio, got his chance because Bergey a hard-hitting standout veteran was hampered by a knee injury. Adams usually plays on Bengals specialty teams, entering the game much less frequently than on Sunday.

"I just have to hope to get a chance of play and take advantage of the opportunity when it arises," Adams said. "We have pretty good linebackers."

Adams said the game was even sweeter for him because it was Denver who drafted him in 1971, then cut him.

"I don't have any bitter feelings toward Denver, but it makes you feel pretty good when you do something against your former teammates," he continued.

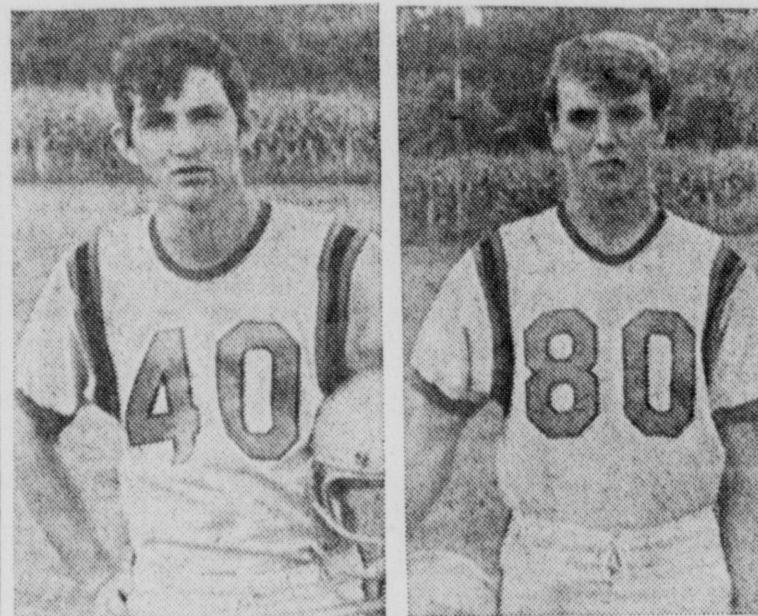

The Bengals allowed Denver's potent offense to one touchdown and held down standout running back Floyd Little.

LE Reserves Beat Pioneers

The Logan Elm reserve football team rolled up a 43-0 win over visiting Zane Trace Monday, the fourth win of the season against no losses for the little Braves.

The Braves led 14-0 at halftime on a 6-yard pass from Bog Sargent to Wayne Linthicum and on a seven yard run by Lithicum. The two extra points came after the second touchdown on a Sargent to Linthicum pass.

In the third quarter, Steve Rawlins rambled 45 yards for the first score with Wes King kicking the extra points. Rawlins scored again on a 35-yard run and the conversion was a 2-pointer on a pass from Sargent to Linthicum.

The two fourth quarter TDs were both scored on long passes by Sargent—38 yards to Jeff Reichelderfer and 45 yards to Rawlins. Wes King booted the extra point after each of the TDs.

Reserve coach Steve Barney singled out Rawlins, who gained 250 yards rushing. Linthicum, who gained 150 yards rushing, and Sargent, who passed for over 200 yards, for special mention in the game.

Barney noted the defense allowed Zane Trace only three first downs and never permitted them to get past the midfield stripe.

"We'll have more problems with Douglas," said Skorich at his weekly news conference Monday after a brief review of the 31-7 pasting Kansas City gave the Browns with the help of three Livingston TD passes and eight Cleveland turnovers.

Seven former Yankees have hit grand slam World Series homers. In order, they were Tony Lazzeri, Gil McDougald, Mickey Mantle, Yogi Berra, Bill Skowron, Bobby Richardson, and Joe Pepitone.

By HERSHEL NISSENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

Southern California and Oklahoma held onto the top spots in The Associated Press college football poll today while Alabama moved past Ohio State into third place and upset-minded Auburn cracked the Top Ten for the first time this season.

Southern Cal's Trojans received 34 first-place votes and 964 points from a nationwide panel of sports writers and broadcasters following their fifth consecutive triumph, a 30-21 victory over Stanford.

Oklahoma, which had a week off before this Saturday's annual war with Texas, pulled down 15 first-place votes and 912 points.

The only change among the first eight teams came in the 3-4 spots, where Alabama climbed from fourth to third with 677 points on the heels of a 25-7 touncing of Georgia.

The Crimson Tide changed places with Ohio State, down from third to fourth after a come-from-behind 35-18 win over California. The Buckeyes received the remaining first-place vote and 625 points.

The 5-6-7-8 positions again went to Michigan, a 35-7 victor over Navy; idle Nebraska; Notre Dame, which blanked Michigan State 16-0, and Louisiana State, a 12-6 winner over Rice.

Auburn's second straight upset, a 19-13 triumph over Mississippi following a victory over Tennessee the previous week, vaulted the Tigers from 17th to ninth while Texas, hard-pressed to beat Utah State 27-12, slipped from ninth to 10th.

Auburn's meteoric rise also dropped Tennessee, Washington and Colorado one spot each to 11th, 12th and 13th. UCLA remained 14th, trailed by Penn State, Air Force, Stanford, Iowa State, Oklahoma State and Arkansas.

NBA Opens 27th Season Tonight

By ALEX SACHARE
Associated Press Sports Writer
The National Basketball Association opens its 27th season tonight—with Wilt Chamberlain, but apparently without Willis Reed, Bob Rule, Archie Clark and Lennie Wilkens; with Kansas City-Omaha, but without Cincinnati; and with Rick Barry, but without Billy Cunningham and Julius Erving.

Chamberlain, the 7-foot-2 veteran who led the Lakers to the NBA championship last season, resolved his contractual difficulties with Los Angeles Monday and may be ready for the Lakers' season opener Wednesday night.

Eight NBA teams begin their 82-game schedules tonight. The New York Knicks, beaten by Los Angeles in the 1971-72 championship finals, host Seattle, while Philadelphia is at Chicago. Atlanta plays at Buffalo and Baltimore opens at Cleveland.

The Lakers open defense of their NBA championship in Omaha the following night against the Kansas City-Omaha Kings, the franchise which was shifted from Cincinnati after last season. Other NBA clubs open later in the week.

The American Basketball Association schedule begins Thursday night, with the defending champion Indiana Pacers visiting Memphis to play the newly-renamed Rams. Also Thursday, Carolina meets Virginia at Richmond and Denver is at Utah. Other teams open play Friday and Saturday.

Chamberlain, who still had a year to go on his $250,000-a-year, two-year contract had sought to have the pact renegotiated. However a settlement apparently has been reached but details as to the amount or length of the contract were not disclosed.

Reed, the 6-10 center who led the Knicks to the NBA championship in 1969-70 but has been bothered by tendonitis in his knees the past two years, suffered a thigh bruise in pre-season training and was placed on the disabled list Monday.

more than half of the crowd had left in disgust at the performance.

The unhappy mood spread to the TV audience. The Astro-dome state crew estimated 75 calls came in from as far away as Canada, blasting everything from the Oilers to the television commentary.

The Oilers, getting their first chance at the Monday night spectacle since 1970, got a severe case of stage fright and stuttered to only 69 yards in total net offense—their worst offense showing in history.

The Oakland defense, ranked first in the AFC in pass defense, picked off five Oilers passes and dropped several other possible interceptions.

The Raiders, who lost four of four fumbles, kept plugging and finally got their offense started.

"I told them at the half all we have to do is settle down and something will come our way," Oakland Coach John Madden said. "On offense, so many untimely things happened to us. They had a good pass rush. They went all out."

Field goals of 46 and 35 yards by Blanda and a 16-yard touchdown pass to Fred Biletnikoff gave Oakland a 13-0 lead going into the fourth quarter when the bottom fell out on the Oilers.

Lamonica hit rookie Mike Siani for a 27-yard TD to open the last period and interceptions by Nemiah Wilson and Otis Sistrunk set up the final two TDs—a 14-yard run by Clarence Davis and a 2-yard pass from Ken Stabler to tight end Bob Moore.

The last two TDs were only 29 seconds apart.

Typical of the Oilers' performance was the second quarter when defensive end Greg Sampson fell on an Oakland fumble at the Raider two-yard line.

Instead of taking it in, the Oilers lost 15 yards on two plays and had an attempted field goal blocked by Art Thoms, who also intercepted a pass.

Doug Adams Proves Worth To Bengals

CINCINNATI (AP) — Ohio State graduate Doug Adams capitalized fully on a rare opportunity to play in place of linebacker Bill Bergey when Cincinnati downed Denver Sunday.

The scrappy, second-year linebacker recorded eight unassisted tackles and deflected one pass in the Bengals' 21-10 victory and said, "there is no doubt it was the highlight of my pro career."

When informed of his statistics, Adams said, "I must have sneaked up on somebody. But I played as well as I hoped and I was pretty happy."

The 22-year-old player from Xenia, Ohio, got his chance because Bergey a hard-hitting standout veteran was hampered by a knee injury. Adams usually plays on Bengals special teams, entering the game much less frequently than on Sunday.

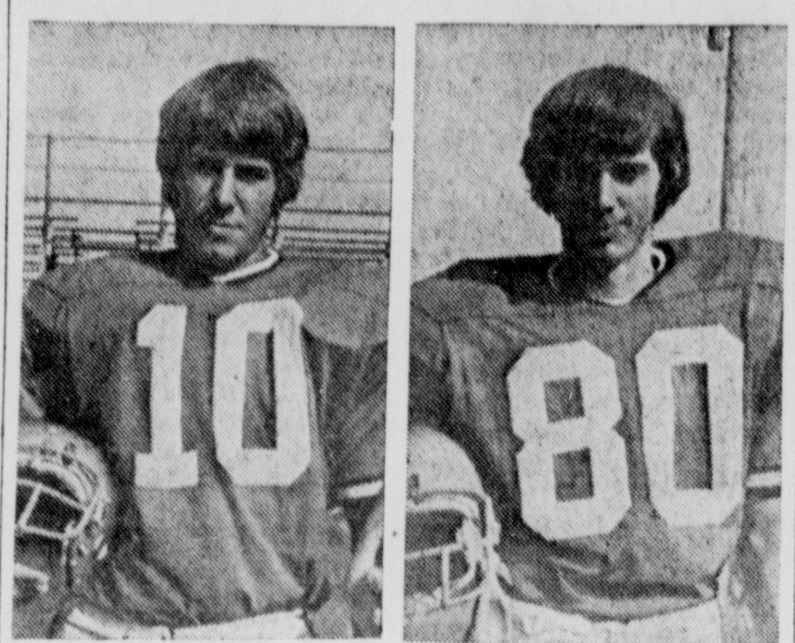

"I just have to hope to get a chance of play and take advantage of the opportunity when it arises," Adams said. "We have pretty good linebackers."

Adams said the game was even sweeter for him because it was Denver who drafted him in 1971, then cut him.

"I don't have any bitter feelings toward Denver, but it makes you feel pretty good when you do something against your former teammates," he continued.

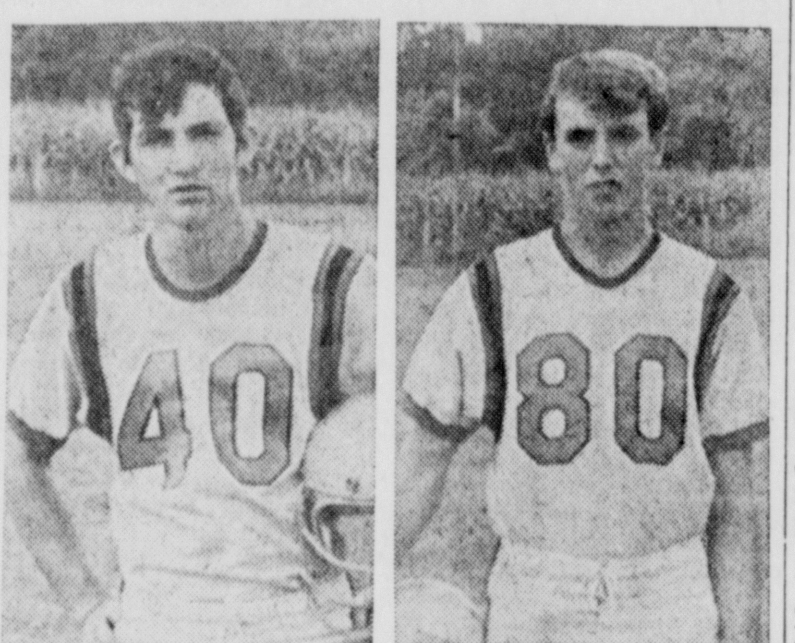

The Bengals allowed Denver's potent offense to one touchdown and held down standout running back Floyd Little.

LE Reserves Beat Pioneers

The Logan Elm reserve football team rolled up a 43-0 win over visiting Zane Trace Monday, the fourth win of the season against no losses for the little Braves.

The Braves led 14-0 at halftime on a 6-yard pass from Bog Sargent to Wayne Linticum and on a seven yard run by Linticum. The two extra points came after the second touchdown on a Sargent to Linticum pass.

In the third quarter, Steve Rawlins rambled 45 yards for the first score with Wes King kicking the extra points. Rawlins scored again on a 35-yard run and the conversion was a 2-pointer on a pass from Sargent to Linticum.

The two fourth quarter TDs were both scored on long passes by Sargent—38 yards to Jeff Reichelderfer and 45 yards to Rawlins. Wes King booted the extra point after each of the TDs.

Reserve coach Steve Barney singled out Rawlins, who gained 250 yards rushing, Linticum, who gained 150 yards rushing and Sargent, who passed for over 200 yards, for special mention in the game.

Barney noted the defense allowed Zane Trace only three first downs and never permitted them to get past the midfield stripe.

Cleveland Browns Face Chicago Bears

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Quarterback Mike Livingston gave Cleveland fits Sunday, but Browns Coach Nick Skorich says Chicago Bears scrambling signalcaller Bobby Douglas will be even tougher to contain.

"We'll have more problems with Douglas," said Skorich at his weekly news conference Monday after a brief review of the 31-7 pasting Kansas City gave the Browns with the help of three Livingston TD passes and eight Cleveland turnovers.

Seven former Yankees have hit grand slam World Series homers. In order, they were Tony Lazzeri, Gil McDougald, Mickey Mantle, Yogi Berra, Bill Skowron, Bobby Richardson, and Joe Pepitone.

Southern Cal Remains On Top In College Poll

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
Southern California and Oklahoma held onto the top spots in The Associated Press college football poll today while Alabama moved past Ohio State into third place and upset-minded Auburn cracked the Top Ten for the first time this season.

Southern Cal's Trojans received 34 first-place votes and 964 points from a nationwide panel of sports writers and broadcasters following their fifth consecutive triumph, a 30-21 victory over Stanford.

Oklahoma, which had a week off before this Saturday's annual war with Texas, pulled down 15 first-place votes and 912 points.

The only change among the first eight teams came in the 3-4 spots, where Alabama climbed from fourth to third with 677 points on the heels of a 25-7 touncing of Georgia.

The Crimson Tide changed places with Ohio State, down from third to fourth after a come-from-behind 35-18 win over California. The Buckeyes received the remaining first-place vote and 625 points.

The 5-6-7-8 positions again went to Michigan, a 35-7 victor over Navy; idle Nebraska; Notre Dame, which blanked Michigan State 16-0, and Louisiana State, a 12-6 winner over Rice.

Auburn's second straight upset, a 19-13 triumph over Mississippi following a victory over Tennessee the previous week, vaulted the Tigers from 17th to ninth while Texas, hard-pressed to beat Utah State 27-12, slipped from ninth to 10th.

Auburn's meteoric rise also dropped Tennessee, Washington and Colorado one spot each to 11th, 12th and 13th. UCLA remained 14th, trailed by Penn State, Air Force, Stanford, Iowa State, Oklahoma State and Arkansas.

Oklahoma State reached the Top Twenty for the first time this season while Arkansas made it back after dropping out following an opening-game loss to Southern Cal.

Last week's Second Ten consisted of Washington, Colorado,

A's Lead 2-0, Eye Playoff Sweep

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer
DETROIT (AP) — Right-hander Joe Coleman had the job of keeping Detroit's hopes alive as Oakland aimed for a sweep today in the American League playoffs.

The A's, who took the first two games in the best-of-five series, countered with left-hander Ken Holtzman. An Oakland victory would advance the A's into the World Series against the National League champion.

The Tigers, facing elimination, remained confident of a comeback.
"If we win tomorrow," said Manager Billy Martin at Monday's workout, "we'll win three in a row. We've always risen up to the situation before and we can do it again."

Martin and the Tigers got one piece of good news before their workout. They learned that Oakland shortstop Bert Campaneris had been suspended from the remainder of the playoffs and fined $500 for hurling his bat at Tiger pitcher Lerrin

LaGrow in Sunday's game.
"Good," exclaimed Martin. "That's what he had coming."

Martin had led a Tiger change out of the dugout after the A's speedy shortstop was hit by a pitch and responded by heaving his bat. It took three umpires to keep the Tiger skipper away from Campaneris.

Billy had cooled off considerably by the time the Tigers worked out Monday and suggested that Campy's explosion might end up helping Detroit.

"He might have done us a favor. I think it put a little fuel in there," said Martin. "I'll let you know after tomorrow."

Campaneris' suspension was good news for Coleman. Campy stole 52 bases during the regular season, leading the AL for the sixth time in eight years. He swiped two Sunday before the seventh inning rhabarb.

A's Lead 2-0, Eye Playoff Sweep

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer
DETROIT (AP) — Right-hander Joe Coleman had the job of keeping Detroit's hopes alive as Oakland aimed for a sweep today in the American League playoffs.

The A's, who took the first two games in the best-of-five series, countered with left-hander Ken Holtzman. An Oakland victory would advance the A's into the World Series against the National League champion.

AN ORDINANCE NO. 896 FOR THE ISSUANCE OF THE ISSUANCE OF THE ISSUANCE OF THE ISSUANCE OF THE

WHEREAS, this Council by Ordinance No. 893, duly passed on September 15, 1969, authorized the issuance of notes in the aggregate principal amount of $250,000 for the purpose stated hereinafter which notes were renewed by the amount authorized by Ordinance No. 846, passed September 14, 1970 and by Ordinance No. 888 passed September 30, 1971, which notes are about to mature; and

WHEREAS, the improvements for which said notes have been issued are and yet not completed and this Council finds that it is necessary to renew such outstanding notes at this time in a principal amount of $250,000 to pay costs of improving and enlarging the waterworks system of the Village of Ashville, Ohio, by constructing water treatment and storage facilities together with water lines and all necessary appurtenances, and to

WHEREAS, the Clerk has certified that the estimated life and usefulness of the property and improvements contemplated is at least ten years and has further certified that the maximum maturity of bonds calculated in accordance with Section 153.20 of the Revised Code is forty years and of notes, five years from the date of issuance of the original note if sold publicly, or one year, if sold privately;

NOW THEREFORE, BE IT ORDAINED BY THE COUNCIL OF Ashville, Pickaway County, Ohio:

Section 1. That it is necessary to issue bonds of the Village of Ashville in the principal sum of $250,000 to pay costs of improving and enlarging the waterworks system of the Village of Ashville, Ohio, by constructing water treatment and storage facilities together with water lines and all necessary appurtenances.

Section 2. That said bonds shall be dated approximately October 1, 1972, shall bear interest at the estimated rate of five and one-half per cent (5 1/2 per cent) per annum, payable semi-annually, until the principal sum is paid, and shall mature in twenty-five substantially equal annual installments after their issuance.

Section 3. That for the purpose of raising money in anticipation of the issuance of said bonds, it is hereby declared necessary to issue and there shall be issued notes of the Village in the aggregate principal amount of $250,000. Such notes shall be issued in a series and in such manner and denominations as determined by the Clerk. Such notes shall be dated October 20, 1972; shall bear interest at the rate of four and one-half (4 1/2 per cent) per annum, payable semi-annually; and shall mature on October 19, 1973.

Section 4. Such notes shall be executed by the Mayor and Clerk-Treasurer and bear the seal of the corporation. They shall be payable at the office of the Clerk-Treasurer, Village Hall, Ashville, Ohio, and shall express upon their faces the purpose for which they are issued and that they are issued pursuant to this ordinance.

Section 5. Said notes shall be first offered to the Clerk-Treasurer as officer in charge of the Bond Retirement Fund, and, if not taken by said fund, are hereby awarded and sold to Rose Wade & Company for not less than par value thereof; and the proceeds from such sale, except any premium, shall be paid into the proper fund and used for the purpose aforesaid and for no other purpose, for which purpose said money is hereby appropriated. Any premium shall be transferred to the Bond Retirement Fund to be applied in the payment of principal and interest of said notes in the manner provided by law.

Section 6. Said notes shall be the full general obligations of the Village and the full faith, credit, and revenue of said Village are hereby pledged for the prompt payment of the same. The par value to be received from the sale of the bonds anticipated by said notes at maturity, together with the interest thereon, and is hereby pledged for such purpose.

Section 7. During the year or years while such notes run there shall be levied on all the taxable property in said Village, in addition to all other taxes a direct tax annually not less than that which would have been levied if bonds had been issued therefor without the prior issue of said notes. Said tax shall be and is hereby ordered collected, certified, levied, extended upon the tax duplicate and collected by the same officers, in the same manner and at the same time that taxes for general purposes for each of said years are certified extended and collected. Said tax shall be placed before in preference to all other items and for the full amount thereof. The funds derived from said tax levies hereby required shall be placed in a separate and distinct fund, which together with the interest collected on the same, shall be irrevocably pledged for the payment of the principal and interest of said notes or the bonds in anticipation of which they are issued when and as the same fall due, provided, however, that in each year to the extent that the income from the waterworks system is available for the payment of such notes and bonds and is appropriated for such purpose the amount of such tax shall be reduced by the amount of such income so available and appropriated.

Section 8. It is hereby determined and recited that all acts, conditions and things necessary to be done, precedent to and in the issuing of said notes in order to make them legal, valid and binding obligation of the Village of Ashville, have been done and performed in regular and due form as required by law; and that no limitation of indebtedness or taxation, either statutory or constitutional, will have been exceeded in the issuance of said notes.

Section 9. It is hereby certified that it is not expected that the proceeds of the issue of said notes will be used in a manner that would cause such notes to be arbitrage bonds under Section 103(d) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended and valid regulations thereunder, and, further, that all of the proceeds of such notes are needed for the purpose for which they are hereby authorized to be issued, substantially expended therefor have been or will be promptly committed to such purpose through binding obligations, all available proceeds will be expended within the temporary period reasonably required through the exercise of due diligence to meet current operating expenses, and any such proceeds will be invested or deposited only for a temporary period until needed for the purpose for which the notes are issued; and that this certification is based upon the relevant facts and circumstances in existence, including those more particularly to be set forth and the certificate of the fiscal officer entitled "IRC 103 (d) Certificate" which shall be incorporated in the transcript of proceedings pertaining to said notes and which certificate is adopted and incorporated herein by reference. The Village consents to the purchasers of said notes that it will make no use of the proceeds of said notes which, if such use had been reasonably expected on the date of issue of such notes, would have caused them to be arbitrage bonds under Section 103(d) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended, as in effect on the date of such issue, and any valid regulations thereunder, and that it will comply with the requirements of said Section 103(d) and the requirements of any valid regulations thereunder, all to the extent that it is necessary at the time of the use of such proceeds, so that such use will not cause such notes to be arbitrage bonds under Section 103(d) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended.

Section 10. The Clerk-Treasurer is hereby directed to forward a certified copy of this ordinance to the County Auditor.

Section 11. This ordinance is hereby declared to be an emergency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety of said Village, and for the further reason that the immediate sale of said notes is necessary to enable the Village to retire said outstanding notes and thus protect the credit of the Village; wherefore, this ordinance shall be in effect immediately upon its passage.

AMENDMENT TO THE CON- STITUTION Proposed by Initiative Petition text of the Proposed Constitutional Amendment

ARTICLE XII, Section 8:
BE IT RESOLVED by the people of the State of Ohio: Laws may be passed providing for the taxation by the state or any political subdivision thereof of the incomes of both (1) natural persons and (2) corporations, other business organizations and taxable entities, and any such tax shall be at a non-graduated rate within each of the two classifications, and may be designated by law. Provided, however, that with the exception of investments in intangible personal property, no law shall be enacted by the General Assembly and no existing or future law shall be enforced by any officer of this state or subdivision thereof imposing, collecting, or otherwise levying any tax on, or measuring any tax by, income of natural persons, corporations, or other business organizations and taxable entities, or increasing the rates thereof unless such tax or increase is approved by at least a majority of the electors of the state or of the subdivision voting on such proposition. Nothing contained herein shall prevent the collection of, or the enforcement of, the law relating to, any tax liability which has accrued prior to the effective date of this section.

The questions of such a tax on incomes or increase in the rates thereof shall be submitted at a general election to the electors of this state or of the subdivision for their approval or rejection in a manner provided by law.

Provided further, however, that this section shall not affect the authority of municipalities, subject to the provisions of Section 5, Article XIII and Section 13, Article XVIII of this Constitution to impose, collect, or otherwise levy any tax on, or to measure any tax by, income of natural persons, corporations, or other business organizations and taxable entities, or to increase the rates thereof.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF PROPOSED AMENDMENT
If approved by the voters at the November election, the proposed amendment to Ohio's constitution would greatly increase the opportunity of the public to participate in the decision as to how and how much, it is to be taxed. For the first time, the public would have the right to vote on taxation and government spending at the state level.

The law already guarantees the public this right of control at the local level in the field of real estate taxes and municipal income taxes. If approved, the constitution would then provide that the rate of state income taxation must be the same for all natural persons. The constitution already requires that the rate and valuation for property taxes must be the same for all taxpayers.

The amendment would provide for income taxation based upon ability to pay; that is, the greater a taxpayer's income, the more tax he would pay; the smaller a taxpayer's income, the less tax he would pay.

A "YES" vote on the issue is necessary to accomplish the following:

- (1) Prohibit collection of the present income and income-related tax;
- (2) Give the public the right to vote on any proposed income tax in the future (except municipal taxes);
- (3) Require public approval before any proposed increase of any such tax could take effect.

The effect, if any, which approval of the constitutional amendment might have on current state expenditures will only last for six months. But the control by the public over excessive state government spending will be a permanent part of Ohio's constitution that neither a governor nor legislature, now or in the future, can ever take away from the people.

The November election may be the last chance that Ohioans ever get to control directly runaway spending at the state level.

Committee for the Amendment: Chester T. Cruise, Robert E. Lewis, Joseph P. Tulley, Raymond P. Luther, Howard A. Knight.

TO PROPOSED AMENDMENT
Vote NO on Issue 2
Approving Issue 2 will hurt YOU. ISSUE 2 WILL DESTROY THE HOMESTEAD EXEMPTION AND 10 PER CENT PROPERTY TAX REDUCTION.

Loss of the real estate tax reductions the corporate and personal income taxes made possible by the cost homesteaders who, over 64, yearly tax savings amounting to as much as 80 per cent of their property taxes and would take away all other tax breaks. 10 per cent real estate tax rollback.

ISSUE 2 WILL CAUSE HIGHER TAXES FOR THE SMALL BUSINESSMAN.
High-profit corporations would save about $150 million if Issue 2 passes. A flat-rate income tax for all businesses including partnerships and proprietorships, would force all businesses to pay the same rate.

ISSUE 2 WILL REDUCE STATE SUPPORT TO YOUR COMMUNITY.
Don't vote for a pig-in-a-poke. If the income tax is repealed, it must either be replaced by a FLAT-RATE INCOME TAX, INCREASES IN REAL ESTATE TAXES, CITY INCOME TAXES, SALES TAXES, TUITIONS, ETC.; or current state aid must decrease for: CITIES, COUNTIES, AND TOWNSHIPS; SCHOOLS AND UNIVERSITIES; MENTAL HEALTH; HOSPITALS - PUBLIC ASSISTANCE; CLEAN AIR AND WATER. ISSUE 2 WILL ELIMINATE FAIRNESS AND JUSTICE IN OHIO'S TAX SYSTEM.

Issue 2 permits only a flat-rate income tax, like the city income tax; it eliminates the principle that Ohio voters adopted in 1912, that income taxes be based on ability to pay.

DON'T BE MISLED INTO PAYING MORE THAN YOUR FAIR SHARE FOR GOOD GOVERNMENT. Vote NO on Issue 2.

Committee against the Amendment: William W. Taft, James J. Flannery, Oliver Ocasak, E. W. Lamson.

AMENDMENT TO THE CON-STITUTION
Proposed Initiative Petition
text of the Proposed Constitutional Amendment
ARTICLE XII, Section 8:
The people of the State of Ohio, in order to provide for the taxation of the state or any political subdivision thereof of income, and both (1) natural persons and (2) corporations, other business organizations and taxable entities, and any such tax shall be at a non-graduated rate within each of the two classifications, and may be applied to such incomes as may be designated by law. Provided, however, that with the exception of investment in intangible personal property, no law shall be enacted by the General Assembly and no forced by any officer of this state or subdivision thereof imposing, collecting, or otherwise levying any tax on, or measuring any tax by, income of natural persons, corporations, or other business organizations, or increasing the rates thereof unless such tax or increase is approved by the state or of the subdivision voting on such proposition. Nothing contained herein shall prevent the collection of the enforcement of the law relating to, any tax liability which has accrued prior to the effective date of this amendment.
The questions of such a tax on incomes or increase in the rates thereof shall be submitted at a general election to the electors of this state or of the subdivision for their approval or rejection in a manner provided by law.
Provided further, however, that this section shall not affect the authority of municipalities, subject to the provisions of Section 8, Article XIII and Section 13, Article XVIII of this Constitution to impose, collect, or otherwise levy any tax on, or to measure any tax by, income of natural persons, corporations, or other business organizations and taxable entities, or to increase the rates thereof.
If approved by the voters at the November election, the proposed amendment would greatly improve the opportunity of the public to participate in the decision as to how and how much, it is to be taxed. For the first time, the public would have the right to vote on taxation and government spending at the state level.

The law already guarantees the public this right of control at the local level in the field of real estate taxes and municipal income taxes. If approved, the constitution would then provide that the rate of state income taxation must be the same for all natural persons. The constitution already requires that the rate and valuation for property taxes must be the same for all taxpayers.
The amendment would provide for income taxation based upon ability to pay; that is, the greater a taxpayer's income, the more tax he would pay; the smaller a taxpayer's income, the less tax he would pay.
A "YES" vote on the issue is necessary to accomplish the following:
(1) Prohibit collection of the present income and income-related tax;
(2) Give the public the right to vote on any proposed income tax in the future (except municipal tax);
(3) Require public approval before any proposed increase of any such tax could take effect.
The effect, if any, which approval of the constitutional amendment would have on current state expenditures will only be felt for six months. But the control by the public over excessive state government spending will be a permanent part of Ohio's new constitution that neither governor nor legislature, or the future, can ever take away from the people.
The November election may be the last chance that Ohioans ever get to vote on a directly runaway spending at the state level.
Committee for the Amendment:
Chester T. Cruise, Robert E. Levitt, Joseph P. Tulley, Raymond P. Luther, Howard A. Knight.
ARGUMENT IN OPPOSITION TO PROPOSED AMENDMENT
Vote NO on Issue 2
Approving Issue 2 will hurt YOU. ISSUE 2 WILL DESTROY THE HOMESTEAD EXEMPTION AND 10 PER CENT PROPERTY TAX REDUCTION.
Loss of the real estate tax would cost homeowners who are over 64, yearly tax savings of as much as 80 per cent of their property taxes and would take away their 10 per cent real estate tax rollback.
NEW AND INCREASED TAXES FOR INDIVIDUALS.
Supporters of Issue 2 don't want reduced spending. They want to shift the burden of taxation from the wealthy to the average taxpayer by a flat income tax which would reduce taxes for families earning $9,000 or less and would reduce taxes only for families earning over $18,500.
ISSUE 2 WILL CAUSE HIGHER TAXES FOR THE SMALL BUSINESSMAN.
High-profit corporations would save about $150 million if Issue 2 passes. A flat-rate income tax for all businesses including partnerships and proprietorships, would force all businesses to pay the same rate.
ISSUE 2 WILL REDUCE STATE SUPPORT TO YOUR COMMUNITY.
Don't vote for a pie-in-the-sky. If the income tax is repealed it must either be replaced by a FLAT-RATE INCOME TAX, INCREASES IN REAL ESTATE TAXES, CITY INCOME TAXES, SALES TAXES,

TUITIONS, ETC.; or current state aid must decrease for:
CITIES, COUNTIES, AND TOWNSHIPS;
SCHOOLS AND UNIVERSITIES;
MENTAL HEALTH HOSPITALS — PUBLIC ASSISTANCE;
CLEAN AIR AND WATER.
ISSUE 2 WILL ELIMINATE FAIRNESS AND JUSTICE IN OHIO'S TAX SYSTEM.
Issue 2 permits only a flat-rate income tax, like the city income tax; it eliminates the principle that Ohio voters adopted in 1912, that income taxes be based on ability to pay.
DON'T BE MISLED INTO PAYING MORE THAN YOUR FAIR SHARE FOR GOOD GOVERNMENT.
Vote NO on Issue 2
Committee against the Amendment:
William W. Taft, James J. Flannery, Oliver Ocasak, E. W. Lamson.

Scioto Society Meets 'Tecumseh' Key Personnel

An October gathering of the Scioto Society was held Friday to enable trustees to meet with two key members of the production staff who will be in charge of the historical drama "Tecumseh."

Dr. David Weiss, director, and W. Alan Kirk, technical director, spoke briefly at the Holiday Inn, Chillicothe, dinner meeting.

ALAN KIRK
Technical Director

Weiss was enthusiastic about the amphitheatre which he described as "a theatre unlike any other in the country."

He emphasized the strength of the drama's principal character, the Shawnee chief Tecumseh who, he noted, is not only interesting but a perfect example of a good solid tragic hero like the heroes the great Greeks wrote about. "He was a man who had tremendous potential power and lost it."

Weiss, who is chairman of the Department of Speech and Drama at the University of Virginia, is coming as director of the Sugarloaf Mountain Drama from several successful years as director of the outdoor drama "Trail of Tears" in Tahquah, Okla.

THE director introduced Kirk, with whom he had worked on other drama productions. Kirk presented the view of all the work which lay in store for the historical drama project when he play goes into rehearsal for the scheduled June 30 opening.

According to present plans, the selected actors will have one month of intensive rehearsals prior to the grand opening performance.

Weiss, Kirk and Society executive vice president W. L. "Rusty" Mundell spent Friday and Saturday on Sugarloaf Mountain making recommendations for script and setting adjustments.

Also presented to the trustees was William Benbow, promotion manager of the outdoor drama. A Chillicothe native and former Goodyear store manager, Benbow is now regional manager, incentive division, for Top Value Enterprises, Columbus. One of his principal duties will be to promote the drama as a tourist attraction outside the immediate area.

Trustees discussed with Robert Evans, Society president, the Sept. 9 dedication of the amphitheater which has been labeled "an outstanding success."

Arrest Man In Walkout

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — One arrest was reported this morning as employees of the Westinghouse Electric Corp. plant here forced their way through what union officials said was an unauthorized picket line.

Sheriff's deputies said cars were rocked and pounded as they tried to enter the plant and some rocks were thrown.

The man arrested was identified by officials at the Franklin County Jail as William Thomas Farley. He was arrested by a Franklin Township police officer and charged with throwing stones at a vehicle.

Sheriff's deputies did not enter the disturbance, but stood by near the plant in cruisers. The sheriff's department estimated that there were 100-150 pickets outside the plant, located just west of the city.

A spokesman for International Union of Electrical, Radio and Machine Worker Local 746 said the walkout was triggered late Monday when 50 employees were indefinitely suspended for refusing to work outside their job classifications. Company officials put the suspensions at 20.

Muskie Sees McGovern Turnaround

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Sen. Edmund Muskie predicts the Democratic presidential contender, George McGovern, can turn things around by making people see him "as the man he is."

Polls aren't as valuable as some people think, he added.

The Maine Democrat's speech here Monday was one of the major salvos in the Democrats' bombardment of Ohio, a state that party spokesmen repeatedly say is a key to the election's outcome in November.

Next on tap is the Democrat's vice presidential nominee, Sargent Shriver, who returns Thursday for a United Auto Workers rally in suburban Parma that includes free beer.

Shriver will spend the night in Cleveland, then address the Northeast Ohio Teachers Association convention here Friday morning. Party spokesmen said other appearances are being planned but details weren't firm.

How Weather Looks Today

OHIO WEATHER SUMMARY
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Here is the Ohio weather summary from the National Weather Service:

Frost occurred in several sections of Ohio during the night as the mercury tumbled below the freezing mark. Youngstown recorded lowest reading for the state at 27 degrees.

That reading broke the previous record low for the date for the northeastern Ohio city. Toledo in northwestern Ohio had 29 degrees, while Cincinnati was the warmest spot with 41 degrees.

Temperatures will begin to return to normal fall readings as a high pressure area moves east of Ohio today and a warmer southerly flow begins. Tonight will be partly cloudy and not as cold with a chance of scattered light frost in extreme eastern Ohio.

Wednesday will be warmer with temperatures in the 70s. A front moving toward Ohio will produce showers by Wednesday night.

Judge Presented Hard Hat By Construction Gang 'Fans'

BOSTON (AP) — The construction workers came bearing a gift for Judge M. Edward Viola, who is recovering from a broken hip. They gave him a hardhat.

Printed neatly above the visor were the letters "E. Viola." And written on each side were the words "Here Come the Judge."

Viola, 69, the presiding justice in East Cambridge District Court, received the hardhat Monday when 20 construction workers went to his room at Massachusetts General Hospital to make the presentation.

"This is my gang," the judge said. "No, perhaps you should call them my students of law. No, just put down that they're good guys, really great guys."

9 Miners Died Needlessly In Fire, Federal Report Says

Gravestone Struggle Nears End

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — As the Des Moines Parks Board prepared to reach a decision today on whether to return two controversial homemade tombstones to the graves of Cynthia Frederick's children, a councilman expressed concern for the city's reputation.

"I want to see the proper conclusion reached on the incident itself," said Councilman George Whitmer, "and I'm terribly concerned about the city. I don't want to see the name dragged down when perhaps there's no reason for it."

At issue are two concrete markers which were removed from the graves of the 21-year-old mother's infant children by municipal cemetery workmen.

City officials appear to be caught by a wave of public sentiment. Some indicated they will switch their allegiance from enforcing a city ordinance to supporting the plight of Mrs. Frederick.

Park Board President James Morris Jr. said Monday officials have "done a lot of soul searching. I think we'll grant permission for the stones to be set."

"I'd be enraged if it had been my children this had happened to," said Mayor Richard Olson.

The Park Board's cemetery committee has refused to recommend that the two grave-markers be put back.

Man Thinks Highly Of His Deer Rifle
SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — The Utah Division of Wildlife says a man who illegally shot a deer apparently thinks a lot of his gun.

Officials said they confiscated a rifle which cost $365 new from the unidentified man and a court fined him $250 and put him in jail for two days.

But officials said he showed up again when the department recently auctioned off confiscated items and was high bidder at $275 to get his own gun back.

Man Being Held; Shot At Policeman
CINCINNATI (AP) — A charge of assault with a deadly weapon has been lodged against a 22-year-old Queen City man in the attempted shooting of Cincinnati Patrolman Gerald Streckfuss.

Mathew Sims was booked Monday on the charge and another of operating a stolen vehicle.

Streckfuss said he stopped two men Sunday night in what was reported to be a stolen car. He said he was attempting to arrest the pair when one knocked him to the ground and the other grabbed his revolver. Then a shot was fired at him, he said.

9 Miners Died Needlessly In Fire, Federal Report Says

MORGANTOWN, W. Va. (AP) — Donald Schlick, deputy director of health and safety in the U.S. Bureau of Mines, said today nine men who died in a fire at the Blacksville No. 1 mine last July could have escaped "if they had received timely and adequate instructions."

"Our preliminary investigation has revealed the very basic facts which strongly indicate the nine miners entombed in Blacksville No. 1 died needlessly," Schlick said in testimony before the Interior Department's hearings into the disaster.

Schlick said adequate precautions were not taken to insure that a continuous mining machine being transported to another work area would not come into contact with trolley wires.

The fire in the Consolidation Coal Co. shaft was apparently triggered the evening of July 22 when a continuous mining machine contacted overhead trolley wires while it was being moved. The nine men were trapped "inby," a miners' term which means they were towards the back of the mine with the machine between them and the exit shaft.

Schlick's testimony paralleled conclusions reached in the bureau's preliminary report on the disaster, released last month.

Schlick said "mine employees were working air currents during the movement of that loading machine." He said workers in the mine should have been aware of the danger since crews earlier that day had experienced difficulty in moving a loading machine through the same passageway where the fire originated.

He was also critical of fire-fighting techniques employed at Blacksville No. 1.

"For approximately two hours, firefighting operations were apparently conducted in an unplanned and unorganized manner," Schlick said. "The fire was actually abandoned during this period of time."

If you are driving with minimum liability coverage you could be heading for financial suicide. A $50,000 liability suit could wipe out your savings, force you to sell your home, even destroy your business.

Nationwide Insurance suggests that you adjust your insurance coverage immediately. The man from Nationwide can custom tailor your liability coverage to protect you for what you are worth. And he can also protect you with property loss, collision and comprehensive coverage.

Don't leave yourself liable with minimum coverage. Call the man from Nationwide and find out why Nationwide is the number one auto insurer in Ohio.

Pan Fried Rainbow Trout Rocky Mountain Style

Rinse and dry trout. Use cornmeal, salt and pepper to cover trout. Pan should contain enough peanut oil or vegetable oil to cover one-half of trout. Oil should be hot but not smoking. If oil is correct temperature, trout tail will sizzle when placed in hot oil. Place trout in pan so as not to touch other trout. When golden brown, turn with spatula and cook other side. Turn only once, serve with sauce on a hot dish. Sauce Amandine, Sauce Rosemary, or a Butter Sauce will all go well with this dish.

- When the label reads "GROUND BEEF ROUND," you can be sure it's ground only from the round. Our aim with fresh ground round ... 14% fat for flavor.
- When the label reads "GROUND BEEF CHUCK," you can be sure it's ground only from the chuck. Our aim with fresh ground chuck ... 18% fat for flavor.
- Our "Extra Lean Ground Beef" is all beef from several different cuts, freshly ground. Our aim ... 22% fat for flavor.
- Our "Ground Beef," too, is made only from beef ... nothing added. With ground beef, our aim is ... 28% fat for flavor.
